Postal Pay Hike Okayed By House; Debate Bitter

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House passed the reform-pay bill Thursday night 357 to 24 and sent it to the Senate. An effort to pass only the pay-raise provision and reject the plan for an independent, self-supporting Postal Service was defeated 306 to 77.

With uniformed mailmen loading the galleries and tempers growing short on the floor, though Senate action is not expected until after the July 4 recess and the final enactment appears to be at least a month away.

But opponents said the House "will live to regret bitterly" the day it voted to give up Congress' 181-year control of the mails to an independent agency.

They said reform is only a label for a plan that will restructure the postal system but offers no assurance of faster mail service, efficiency and modernization.

The new service is to put the mails on a self-paying basis by 1978 through corporate powers to set rates covering expenses—subject to congressional veto, negotiate pay with postal unions and sell up to $10 billion in bonds, mostly for modernization.

The pay boost, effective as of last April 18, is expected to cost $338 million for the full fiscal year starting July 1 plus $107 million for the retroactivity this year.

The House waded through 35 amendments—including unsuccessful efforts to resurrect the penny post card and save congressmen's patronage on postmaster appointments—during the long session.

Wilson Ousted By Heath In British Election Upset

People Convinced Our Policies Best: Winner

LONDON (AP) — It became official today: Edward Heath has ousted overconfident Harold Wilson from the prime ministry, winning a mandate to run the British government for a term that can last five years.

"We put forward the right policies, and we stick to them," Heath told his followers. "We have convinced people they were the right policies and that we are going to give them a better government tomorrow."

The 53-year-old bachelor leader of the Conservative party was jubilant that he had defied the odds and confounded the forecasts.

From the start of count- it was evident that the Tories had made a comeback, but it was not until early this afternoon that they clinched a majority in the House of Commons. At that time they passed into the majority with 316 seats in the 630-seat House.

Later the Tory total went to 325.

The final tabulation was hours away, but there were predictions Heath would have a majority of 23 or more seats. Wilson's majority was 65 in the last House.

It was perhaps an irony that the Conservatives, the traditional party of the Establishment, built up their majority in polling which brought out more new-generation voters than any election in the past. For the first time the voting age was down to 18, from 21.

One factor evidently was that many people stayed home, per-

Seek Increase In Parcel Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Post Office announced recently it has asked for increased postage rates for parcels and catalogs, and is seeking for the first time to establish a 35-cent surcharge on odd-shaped and outsized packages.

If approved by the Interstate Commerce Commission, the new rates—averaging 15 per cent for most parcels—would become effective within 30 days. Costs of mailing catalogs would be increased by a flat two cents per piece.

The Post Office, expecting a $2.5 billion operating deficit in the fiscal year which begins July 1, said the increases are expected to raise an additional $123 million.

Unlike other postal rates, which are set by Congress, parcel post rates must be approved by the ICC, which sets freight rates for trains, trucks and airplanes.

President's Non-Involvement In Inflation Battle Rapped

DETROIT (AP) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D - Mass., said Thursday night he was distressed that President Nixon "has refused to involve himself and the office of the presidency in trying to halt inflation."

Kennedy compared it with the economic policies of his brother, the late President John F. Kennedy, during his term as the nation's top executive. Kennedy commented upon President Nixon's speech Wednesday on the economy.

"I saw in the early part of the 1960s, when we had the longest period of economic growth and stability, the full power of the presidency used in terms of these wage-price agreements."

"President Kennedy was able to bring together organized labor as well as the businessman and to stress to the American people what was really in the national interest in terms of agreements," he said.

"We had remarkable success, I think, during that period of time for economic growth and price stability for all Americans. And yet we were able to establish some wage-price guidelines which were related to productivity and we found the whole economy growing and expanding," Kennedy said.

Kennedy, in Detroit for two fund-raising functions for the re-election of Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., said he believed, "All Americans have been very much distressed by the way the economy has been handled in the last 17 months."

"I'd say realistically we'd have to realize that President

Nixon inherited an inflationary economy. But nonetheless, today we have the highest interest rates for the homebuyer for any time since the Civil War and the highest Consumer Price Index of any time going back to World War II.

"This is a matter of great concern to the consumer, the home buyer and all Americans. I'm not completely sure the program outlined by the President is going to meet the demands in loosening credit and making it more available to the small shopkeeper, and to the businessman as well as to the homebuyer, but we'll just have to wait and see," Kennedy said in an interview.

Kennedy, accompanied by his wife, and Sen. and Mrs. Hart, attended a $125-a-plate dinner for about 250 persons at the Recess Club. They then attended a $20 a person "gala" at the Raleigh House. About 2,000 persons were present.

Senate Agrees To Night Work To End Impasse

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has agreed to start night sessions next week in an effort to resolve the legislative impasse created by the month and a half debate on U.S. policy in Cambodia.

The strategy was conceived by Senate Democrats with a dual purpose: showing good will to the Nixon administration by considering its legislative program and applying pressure for an early vote on proposed restrictions on future U.S. activities in Cambodia.

But an end to the marathon debate still seems unlikely much before the June 30 date set by President Nixon for withdrawing all U.S. forces from Cambodia.

The Senate agreed Thursday to vote Monday on an amendment by Sen. Robert C. Byrd, D-W.Va., specifying presidential powers to protect U.S. troops, which appears to command virtually unanimous support.

Earlier Thursday, another agreement was reached to permit evening consideration of bills blocked from floor consideration by the current debate.

The agreement calls for the Senate to drop the military sales bill, vehicle for the current Cambodia debate, and turn to other legislative matters each day at 5 p.m. The night sessions are expected to last four or five hours.

The first measure to be considered will be a catch-all, supplemental appropriations bill that has to be passed by June 30. It is to be followed by a $4.5 billion education money bill that contains three House-passed riders to slow school desegregation. These have previously been rejected by the Senate.

If these can be cleared, the Senate will then consider such measures as the House-approved increase in the legal limit on the national debt—which also must be passed by June 30—and the controversial postal reform measure.

Also as part of the agreement, the Senate will meet two hours ahead of its usual noon starting time.

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield proposed the revised scheduling to a Democratic caucus Thursday, which backed it unanimously. After some conferences Republican leaders went along.

Huber Files More Petitions Than Lenore Romney

LANSING (AP) — Sen. Robert Huber, R-Troy, says he filed 1,645 nominating petitions compared to 1,296 for Mrs. Lenore Romney, his opponent in the race for the Republican Senatorial nomination.

He said this is an indication he can expect support "not from the establishment of the Republican Party, but the concerned Republican, independent and disenchanted Democrats."

Mrs. Romney won the "preferred" designation of the party in a consensus procedure designated by Huber.

U.S. Super Spy Satellite Aloft

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The Air Force today rocketed a secret spy satellite into space to gather a vast amount of intelligence data about Russia, Red China, North Vietnam and other potential trouble spots.

A towering Atlas-Agena rocket blazed away from Cape Kennedy about 7:39 a.m. EDT to propel the superspy toward a near stationary outpost some 20,000 miles above Southeast Asia.

The Air Force clamped a secrecy label on the launching and made no advance announcement.

Sources reported the satellite is the first of an operational service whose main job is to provide early warning of an enemy missile attack either from land or submarine.

They said the 26-foot long Agena carried a television camera to spot missile sites, air bases, troop movements and other military installations and infrared and X-ray sensors to detect the exhaust of a rising rocket.

It was the third secret launch of an Atlas-Agena from Cape Kennedy in 22 months. The sources reported the two earlier satellites, fired Aug. 6, 1968, and last April 19, were experimental prototypes for the payload lofted today.

Both prototypes were placed in near stationary orbit above Southeast Asia, their speed synchronized with that of the rotating earth so they would hover always over that area of the globe.

The sources said the satellite would be able to monitor the test launchings of the Soviet Fractional Orbital Bombardment Satellites (FOBS) which streak into orbit and return to earth after completing global circuits.

End Discrimination, Southern Schools Told

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal officials are drafting a letter telling Southern school districts they must end discrimination as well as segregation by this fall.

J. Stanley Pottinger, director of the Office for Civil Rights, said the letter is in response to complaints that even in desegregated schools, black pupils and teachers are not always treated equally with whites.

The complaints, he indicated, include charges of the rampant firing of black teachers; black students not allowed to attend classes with whites, and other instances of classroom or extracurricular discrimination.

In addition to the letter, which awaits approval by Elliot Richardson, the new secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, at least 100 federal officials will monitor desegregation plans this fall and investigate charges of discrimination, Pottinger said in an interview.

He said districts that discriminate despite approved desegregation plans will be taken to court by the Justice Department or lose their federal aid.

Some of the complaints he talked about were voiced on Capitol Hill Thursday by four young blacks who told the Senate's Select Committee on Equal Educational Opportunity of discrimination in their integrated schools in the South.

Anita Klempeter, a senior from Lake Providence, La., said the 150 blacks who entered her high school under a freedom of choice option were told they couldn't join school clubs until they'd been there a year.

She said during the second year standards were raised to include an A average for entrance and the third year clubs were closed, she said.

Blacks still can't vote for student officers, let alone be a candidate, Miss Klempeter said, adding that when blacks joined the band whites got out.

The school forbids blacks from using public instruments or band uniforms, she said.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The issue of standby wage and price controls shows signs of igniting a congressional furor over President Nixon's domestic policies.

"I think Congress should consider standby controls," House Democratic Leader Carl Albert of Oklahoma said in an interview.

Although he stopped short of an outright endorsement of controls, Albert clearly backs the effort of Democratic members of the Banking Committee to write standby control authority for the President into pending legislation.

Cosmonauts End Long Space Trip

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet spaceship Soyuz 9 returned to earth today after its record-breaking space endurance flight with two cosmonauts aboard. Tass news agency reported. It was in orbit for more than 17 days.

The Soviet news agency said Soyuz 9 landed at a predestined area 45 miles west of the town of Karaganda. Cosmonauts Andrian Nikolayev and Vitaly Sevast'yanov were in good shape on landing, it added.

The spaceship had been orbiting the earth since June 1, four days longer than the American record for time in space set by Gemini 7 in 1965.

The drive for standby wage and price controls is building at a time Nixon seeks to raise the national debt ceiling by $18 billion and government statisticians reported another four-tenths of one per cent living cost increase during May.

Labor leaders and businessmen appeared divided over the wage and price control issue following the President's economic message. Some want more control, while others want none.

Viet Cong Near Kompong Thom Battle Ensues

PHNOM PENH (AP) — A powerful North Vietnamese-Viet Cong force attacked a provincial capital 80 miles north of Phnom Penh today and pushed to within 200 yards of major government strong points, the Cambodian high command said.

Moving behind a mortar barrage, the Communists struck Kompong Thom just after midnight. The Cambodian air force sent fighter-bombers into action at dawn. Latest reports said fighting was continuing and that the attackers were getting reinforcements.

Kompong Thom, on the road between Phnom Penh and the Angkor region in northwestern Cambodia, has been under almost constant enemy pressure for more than a month.

Cambodian spokesmen say Viet Cong and North Vietnamese forces have occupied most of Angkor, the site of the 12th century temple ruins that are Cambodia's greatest national treasure. There has been speculation that the Communists might try to set up a revolutionary capital in the ancient city.

There was no word on casualties in the fighting at Kompong Thom, but the Cambodian high command claimed today that its forces have killed more than 6,000 Communist troops in the three-month-old Cambodian war. In addition, more than 11,000 enemy troops have been reported killed by the U.S. and South Vietnamese forces operating in Cambodia's eastern provinces.

Leo Raho and John H. Froberg of Escanaba have carried on a continuing criticism of Jon Thorin, city airport manager, over several years, and last night the City Council was again caught up in the controversy.

The discussion was triggered by the Council's authorizing a renewal for one year of the manager and fixed-base operator contract with Thorin.

Raho appeared before the Council in person and Froberg wrote the Council a letter.

Despite objections, the Council authorized the contract with Thorin for one year beginning July 1, which may be terminated by either party on 30 days notice. Thorin is to receive $12,000; the city receives all airport operational revenues.

Mayor Ronald DeVos and members of the Council replied that the subject has received intensive study, that the contract with Thorin is the best possible deal that can be made in the interest of the public and taxpayers, and that if Raho has personal problems with Thorin that is something for him to solve.

Of the contract with Thorin, City Manager George Harvey said: "This is the most economical arrangement. We are talking about $18,000 to $17,000 if we follow Raho's suggestions."

Adopted an amended appropriation ordinance decreasing the general operating fund by $24,184; ratified a wage contract with the Municipal Employees for a raise of 7 per cent in 1970 and the same in 1971; and approved the lowest of eight bids for water main pipe and a purchase contract with Griffin Pipe Products Co.

(Two groups of city employees are as yet without wage contracts: The electricians will have a contract similar in scale to the U. P. Power Co., and the firemen are in arbitration through the Labor Mediation Board.)

The Council also heard Carl Anderson of Escanaba regarding his suggestion that some program be established to salvage used newspapers and sell them to paper manufacturers.

So far, preliminary inquiries indicate the cost of storage and transportation would exceed the revenue, said Mayor DeVos.

U.S. 2 Council To Seek Meeting With Commission

SPALDING—The Michigan U. S. 2 Improvement Council Thursday voted to seek a meeting with the State Highway Commission to "seek a definite commitment that will bring about the earliest possible reconstruction of U. S. 2 along its present route."

Action was taken by delegates from seven Upper Peninsula counties along the present route of U. S. 2 in the Upper Peninsula at a meeting at Ruck's Inn.

William Asselin of Norway, chairman of the council, said he was not certain when such a meeting between representatives of the Council and the Highway Commission could be arranged.

Claude J. Tobin of Escanaba, a member of the Highway Commission, had been invited to Thursday's meeting, but telephoned that he would be unable to attend due to another commitment.

Urges Cooperation

The Council also approved a resolution asking all communities affected by any necessary changes along U. S. 2 to offer their full cooperation to speed up the Highway Department's task of planning and construction.

The U. S. 2 Improvement Council which was organized several years ago is backing improvement of the highway along its present route. Recently, the Highway Commission announced a long-range construction program which would provide a four-lane highway in the Upper Peninsula generally following the present route of U. S. 2.

Asselin, in remarks to the group, said the purpose of the meeting in Spalding was to "as for a firm commitment from the Department of Highways to supply all of the affected areas along U. S. 2 with definite information and plans so they can cooperate and proceed with their own long range plans; to ask for funds that will do the job, and to support a program for funding that will start construction."

Pleased With Plans

Action on proposals supporting a further extension of the Federal Highway Trust Fund for Interstate Highway Construction with an amendment that will allow the state more latitude in determining use of the funds and on a proposal asking a change in federal aid for highways from 50-50 to 70 per cent federal and 30 per cent state was deferred, although both questions were discussed.

Asselin said he is pleased with the present highway department's view that U. S. 2 will be modernized along its present route, but "we can no longer accept 'shortage of funds' as a valid reason for delaying modernization of U. S. 2."

State Police investigated a one car accident that occurred about 11:30 p. m. Wednesday, on U. S. 2 in Manistique Township.

Officers said Margaret Arnold, 531 Arbutus Ave., Manistique, lost control of the vehicle she was driving when she swerved to the right to avoid collision with an oncoming vehicle in her lane, and ran off the road.

She was taken to the Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital where she was treated and released. Manistique City Police investigated an accident in which Richard Martin, 16, of 207 Deer St., Manistique, received minor injuries.

Police said a car driven by Sallie Diller, 40, of Gulliver, collided with a motorbike being operated by Martin, at the intersection of Cedar St. and Walnut St. in Manistique.

Sallie Diller was reportedly making a left turn from Cedar to Walnut St. at the time of the collision and said she did not see the motorbike.

She was ticketed by City Police for failure to yield right of way.

Martin was taken to the Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital where he was treated and released.

Area Residents Join To 'Bury' Smoking Habit

You can "kick" the cigarette habit and bury those "smokes" forever by joining a campaign now under way in the Upper Peninsula as well as nationally.

The Rev. Raymond Peterson, spokesman for the Upper Peninsula Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association, with Gordon M. Labuhn, Marquette, regional director of the Association, were in Escanaba to announce plans for the event to be held here on Monday.

"Several residents of Escanaba will initiate the campaign for Delta County at noon on Monday, June 22, in front of the Civic Center at 225 N. 21st St.," they said.

Coughin' To Cuffin'

"A coffin on wheels, which is touring the Upper Peninsula, will be on hand for area citizens to publicly proclaim their intention to 'kick the habit' by throwing their cigarettes and other smokes into the coffin," said the Rev. Peterson.

"From 'coughin' to cuffin' is the theme," he emphasized.

Robert Bink, sales manager of the Coca-Cola, member of the City Council, of the Elks, Knights of Columbus, Jaycees, Optimist Club and civic leader, plus other persons prominent in the community, will participate in the "burying" ceremony.

The Rev. Peterson and Labuhn invited all interested persons to be present for the event between noon and 1 p. m. on Monday and "join the unhooked" by burying their smoking habit.

Help Is Offered

Available at the ceremonies of the coffin will be two booklets for free distribution. The first titled, "Me Quit Smoking! Why?" gives in brief the results of the smoking habit. The second booklet "Me Quit Smoking! How?" presents a variety of ways and ideas on how to stop smoking.

The booklets may also be obtained by writing to "Kick the Habit," Upper Peninsula Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association, 200 Glenwood Road, Marquette, Mich.

MANISTIQUE—Two persons received minor injuries in separate traffic accidents in the Manistique area, according to State and City Police of Manistique.

State Police investigated a one car accident that occurred about 11:30 p. m. Wednesday, on U. S. 2 in Manistique Township.

Officers said Margaret Arnold, 531 Arbutus Ave., Manistique, lost control of the vehicle she was driving when she swerved to the right to avoid collision with an oncoming vehicle in her lane, and ran off the road.

Council Hears Rahoi:

Personalities Fog Airport Operation

Leo Rahoi and John H. Froberg of Escanaba have carried on a continuing criticism of Jon Thorin, city airport manager, over several years, and last night the City Council was again caught up in the controversy.

The discussion was triggered by the Council's authorizing a renewal for one year of the manager and fixed-base operator contract with Thorin.

Rahoi appeared before the Council in person and Froberg wrote the Council a letter.

Despite objections, the Council authorized the contract with Thorin for one year beginning July 1, which may be terminated by either party on 30 days notice. Thorin is to receive $12,000; the city receives all airport operational revenues.

Most Economical

Rahoi said it could be done for much less, that he would like to make a bid on the job if his "superiors" would permit him to do so, and that the Council should give the matter more study and delay a decision.

Mayor Ronald DeVos and members of the Council replied that the subject has received intensive study, that the contract with Thorin is the best possible deal that can be made in the interest of the public and taxpayers, and that if Rahoi has personal problems with Thorin that is something for him to solve.

Of the contract with Thorin, City Manager George Harvey said: "This is the most economical arrangement. We are talking about $16,000 to $17,000 if we follow Rahoi's suggestions."

Councilman Bink said: "I don't think Mr. Thorin should be belittled here," and noted that the city has received a favorable report on the airport operation from the Bay de Noc Flying Club.

Wage Contract

Rahoi said he supposed he would have to continue not using the Escanaba airport for his flying.

"Leo, you can use it anytime you want to," said Councilman Bink.

oilman Richard Pryal. "If you don't, that's your personal decision."

The Council in other business:

Adopted an amended appropriation ordinance decreasing the general operating fund by $24,164; ratified a wage contract with the Municipal Employees for a raise of 7 per cent in 1970 and the same in 1971; and approved the lowest of eight bids for water main pipe and a purchase contract with Griffin Pipe Products Co. (Two groups of city employees are as yet without wage contracts: The electricians will have a contract similar in scale to the U. P. The Council also heard Carl Anderson of Escanaba regarding his suggestion that some program be established to salvage used newspapers and sell them to paper manufacturers.

So far, preliminary inquiries indicate the cost of storage and transportation would exceed the revenue, said Mayor DeVos.

Area Residents Join To 'Bury' Smoking Habit

You can "kick" the cigarette habit and bury those "smokes" forever by joining a campaign now under way in the Upper Peninsula as well as nationally.

The Rev. Raymond Peterson, spokesman for the Upper Peninsula Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association, with Gordon M. Labuhn, Marquette, regional director of the Association, were in Escanaba to announce plans for the event to be held here on Monday.

"Several residents of Escanaba will initiate the campaign for Delta County at noon on Monday, June 22, in front of the Civic Center at 225 N. 21st St.," they said.

Coughin' To Coffin

"A coffin on wheels, which is touring the Upper Peninsula, will be on hand for area citizens to publicly proclaim their intention to 'kick the habit' by throwing their cigarettes and other smokes into the coffin," said the Rev. Peterson.

"From 'coughin' to coffin' is the theme," he emphasized.

Robert Bink, sales manager of the Coca-Cola, member of the City Council, of the Elks, Knights of Columbus, Jaycees, Optimist Club and civic leader, plus other persons prominent in the community, will participate in the "burying" ceremony.

The Rev. Peterson and Labuhn invited all interested persons to be present for the event between noon and 1 p.m. on Monday and "join the unhooked" by burying their smoking habit.

New Industry Coming:

Tractor Systems Manufacturer To Locate In City

Escanaba is to have a new industry whose product will be a track that can be applied over the wheels of vehicles and tractors to propel it over almost any type of terrain.

Globe Trotter Corp., encouraged by the Escanaba Industrial Foundation to locate here, will have its plant and main offices in a city-owned building at 800 1st Ave. N.

Walter G. Lewke, secretary of the Escanaba Foundation, said the new corporation was formed in East Lansing to finance the research and development of a track system designed to provide additional flotation, as well as traction, for farm, industrial, military, and all-terrain vehicles.

"Jack V. Knowles, the corporation's president-treasurer, is also the inventor of the system, which embodies a rubber-grouser track applied over an inside steel track," said Lewke. "The track can be put on both automotive and tractor wheels and tires."

Terrific Potential

American and Canadian patents have been issued on the invention and other foreign applications are presently pending.

The Escanaba City Council last night authorized the lease of 2,000 square feet of space in the city-owned building for six months at $50 a month. The hope is that within three years the new firm will have a substantial employment, said City Manager George Harvey.

Mayor Ronald DeVos said he had seen a demonstration film of the Globe Trotter and he believes it has a "terrific" potential. The Escanaba Foundation is assisting on an interim basis with $8,000 and the firm is involved in a $300,000 stock sale, he added.

The track concept has been worked on for many years by both individuals as well as many large companies, but that whenever they encountered terrain conditions involving rain, snow or deep mud, the wheels would spin inside the track, according to Knowles, the inventor.

Gets Severe Test

Another problem that plagued them was the tendency for the vehicles to run right out of their track on sharp turns, or on steep hillsides. In a series of many tests in all types of terrain and adverse weather conditions, the Globe Trotter track does not cause the wheels to spin, nor has the track ever come off the vehicle, he said.

On a recent test on cement pavement, a 100 horsepower diesel farm tractor was chained to a steel beam, and although many engineers claimed that it "couldn't be done," the Globe Trotter track kept on turning on the cement floor, and without bucking or rearing. The same was true for reverse as well, although the "squalling" of the rubber track could be heard for the full length of the big building where the tests were conducted.

The big tractor was finally put into creeper gear, and still the track continued its steady rate of turn right up to the point of where the engine stalled out.

The corporation believes that many interesting applications of these tracks will be developed. Their need for such usage as log-skidding, snow removal, ski slope maintenance and rescue, conservation, hunting and fishing, road construction, fire fighting, etc., is already being investigated.

For Sportsmen

In addition to the marketing and production reasons for locating the new business here in Escanaba, were Knowles' personal feelings about the area as a place in which to live, which entered strongly into the final decision. He is the son of a conservation official in Scottsville, (near Ludington), and has spent most of his spare time, in boyhood and through adult life, in the outdoors, hunting and fishing.

An experienced sportsman, Jack Knowles developed the first prototype of the track on a large vehicle that carries up to seven people inside a heated cab. The unit was built so that Knowles could go into the Canadian backwoods country on moose hunting expeditions in the deep snows of the Magpie trail.

A crack rifle shot, Knowles had the highest score of the year for the United States, as a member of the Marine Corps, and was canoe champion for Western Michigan for several years.

Present plans of the firm call for some additional "tooling up" before finalizing on the first production track, with all of the work being done through outside sources. For this reason it will be some time before any personnel are hired. Additional members of the corporation are James Iler, secretary, and Robert J. Huguette, director of marketing.

Democrats Hold Party Meeting

Voters of the Wells area filled the Wells Township Hall Thursday evening to meet Democratic candidates for office in attendance at the regular June meeting of the Delta County Democratic Executive Committee.

Featured candidates addressing the meeting were Nino Green of Gladstone, running for Congress from the 11th District; Michael J. Nelson of Escanaba for 107th District State Representative; H. George Nelson for County Commissioner and Einar E. Erlandsen, unopposed, for the Charter Commission.

Erlandsen and Nelson are on the slate in Delta County District number 5 which consists of Wells Township and City of Escanaba Precincts No. 5 and 7.

Other candidates for office introduced to the group by Norbert Murphy, Delta County Democratic chairman, were Elnora Vader, William E. Girard and Chris Bodjanic for County Commissioner and precinct delegate candidates Robert R. Vard, Leland Wellman, James E. Anderson, Henry Levesque and Robert T. Biegel.

Voters will go to the polls on Tuesday, Aug. 4 to select the party's candidates for office in the November election and to elect delegates to the party's county convention which will be held in mid-August.

The major task of the August county conventions will be the selection of members of the County Executive Committee for the next two years and the party's delegates to the state convention which will be held in Grand Rapids Aug. 22-23.

Lunch was served by the Democratic Women's Club.

Police Probe 2 Area Break-Ins

Two breaking and enterings are being investigated, that were reported to have occurred during the past week sometime, according to State Police of the Gladstone Post.

Officers said the Stonington Community Building was entered through a basement window on the south side of the building and a record player valued at $50, and a 16mm movie projector, valued at $200, were taken.

The break-in was discovered by Wallace Thorsen, Township Supervisor, of Rte. 2 Rapid River, about 4 p.m. Thursday, police said.

A break-in of a cottage located near County Rd. K-26 in section 18 of Bay de Noc Township, owned by Clyde Anderson, 1208 7th Ave. S., Escanaba, was reported to have occurred sometime during the past week.

Officers said entry was made by breaking the glass in the front door and unlocking the door.

A chest of assorted tools, valued at $25, and two six-packs of beer were reported to have been taken, police said.

RECOGNITION of his 37 years of service with the City of Escanaba was accorded Ed Olson, who is retiring as purchasing agent for the city, by Mayor Ronald DeVos on behalf of the City Council. The presentation of a watch was made at Thursday night's council session. Olson was commended for his dedicated service to the city and its people. (Daily Press Photo) happened by the polls into thinking their votes were meaningless. It looked as if just over 70 per cent of the voters had come out. The figure was almost 76 per cent in 1966 elections.

U.S. Elections Recalled

The result recalled American elections, in diverse ways. Heath, in effect, pulled off what Harry S. Truman did in 1948 when he defeated Thomas E. Dewey despite most forecasts. Wilson sought to be the first prime minister to win three elections in a row. Franklin D. Roosevelt won a third term, but Harold Wilson couldn't.

Under the British system the party that wins the most seats in the House of Commons forms the government. Unless beaten on a vote of confidence it can serve five years, but the prime minister is able to step in ahead of time and order an election. Thus Wilson, originally empowered in 1964, called a 1966 election that increased his majority. This time he summoned the voters a year ahead of his time limit, in an effort to assure a total of 10 years' rule for labor.

There were surprises all over the country. George Brown, the former foreign secretary who has been deputy leader to Wilson in the Labor party, was defeated. So was Jennie Lee, a former Labor minister and the widow of Aneurin Bevan.

Brown's counterpart, Reginald Maudling, deputy leader of the Tories, won easily, as did Heath and Wilson in their own districts.

Enoch Powell doubled his last-time majority in winning re-election at Wolverhampton. The firebrand Protestant evangelist Ian Paisley won election in Antrim North, Northern Ireland.

Churchill Elected

Winston Spencer Churchill III was chosen in Lancashire to carry on the name of his grandfather, Sir Winston Churchill. He is 28.

Sir Alec Douglas-Home, the prime minister whom Wilson unseated in 1964, is expected to become foreign secretary, succeeding Michael Stewart. When Douglas-Home was prime minister his cabinet included Heath as president of the Board of Trade.

Most people expected the Conservatives to continue close liaison with the United States in foreign policy, and Heath will review and perhaps reverse plans to withdraw all British troops east of Suez.

Foreign Policy Issue

The key foreign policy issue is Britain's latest bid to join the Common Market. Negotiations open June 30.

Heath is well equipped for the task. He made his name as leader of the British negotiation team that made the first attempt to join the European trading bloc. That was vetoed by Charles de Gaulle.

Public opinion in Britain has been represented as 65 per cent against joining Europe, largely because of fear of higher food prices. But Heath is committed to joining if Britain can secure favorable terms.

325 Conservative Seats

At the point the vote count gave the Conservatives 325 seats the Labor party held 286.

The popular vote of the two main parties was closer than the lineup by districts might indicate. A late tabulation showed the Conservatives with 12,667,629 to Labor's 11,827,258.

In percentage, the Conservatives had won 46.5 this time compared with 41.9 in 1966. Labor had 43.4 per cent against 47.9 last time.

The Liberals had 2,031,763 votes and others 724,439. This third party had 13 seats in the last Parliament but was emerging this time with fewer. Jeremy Thorpe, the party leader and three other liberals had won this afternoon at a stage when all but a few of the 630 House of Commons seats were accounted for.

British International Aims Haven't Changed

LONDON (AP) — As Edward Heath's Conservatives prepared to take over the British government, they share with Harold Wilson's Laborites the same international aims of extending British influence abroad, protecting the nation's interests and remaining loyal to its allies.

Style Will Differ

But in style and emphasis Sir Alec Douglas-Home, Heath's likely choice for foreign secretary, will differ from Labor's Michael Stewart on at least three major issues:

—Nuclear weapons policy.

—Britain's role in the Persian Gulf, the Indian Ocean and Southeast Asia.

—Relations with the white supremacy regimes of South Africa and Rhodesia.

In the nuclear field, the Conservative program says Britain must retain independent control of its nuclear weapons to deter an aggressor. The Labor government assigned the nation's total nuclear strike capacity to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization for as long as NATO lasts. But because of doubts that "the United States government will risk a holocaust defending Europe against nuclear blackmail," Heath has proposed a joint nuclear weapons program in Western Europe based on the pooling of British and French resources, know-how, and weapons arrangements including targeting.

Pledge To Reverse Plans

East of Suez, the Conservatives are pledged to reverse Labor's plans to withdraw British troops from their Persian Gulf, Singapore and Malaysian bases, a withdrawal program due to be completed by the end of 1971.

There have been signs that Malaysia and Singapore would like British forces to stay on, and so would the Americans. But in the Persian Gulf, where a new union of nine Arab sheikdoms is forming, the pointers suggest a continued British presence will not be welcome.

Heath and his aides have come out emphatically for better working relations with South Africa and for a new bid to come to terms with rebel Rhodesia.

Promise To Cancel Ban

They have promised to cancel the Labor government's ban on the sale of weapons to South Africa provided those weapons are needed only for external defense. This doubtless will touch off a storm of protest in Britain as well as among Asian and African members of the United Nations.

The most immediate foreign policy task is the negotiations opening June 30 on Britain's new application to join the European Common Market.

"Our sole commitment is to negotiate," the Conservative campaign manifesto said, "no more, no less." But Heath made his reputation on his handling of Britain's previous attempt to enter the European community, an attempt blocked by Charles de Gaulle's veto. Despite opposition from some diehard nationalists among his Conservatives, Heath is certain to press as vigorously now as he did then to join Britain with the Continent.

Close U.S. Ties Likely

A Conservative government will set out, as the Laborites did when they took office, to consolidate British relations with the United States. In particular, Heath will extend British support for American policies in Indochina. He is on close terms with President Nixon and will visit him before the end of the year for a sweeping assessment of relations.

Limits Of Dissent

A recent federal court case in which members of an anti-war group were charged with ransacking a Selective Service office should clarify in the minds of many protesters the distinction between peaceful dissent, which is legal, and violent, destructive dissent, which is illegal.

Eight members of a group called "Beaver 55" were tried on charges of destroying government property after they held a press conference and admitted ransacking a draft office in Indianapolis, Ind. All eight were convicted, largely on the basis of their public confessions.

The trial is especially noteworthy because of the jury instructions in which Judge Cale J. Holder, U. S. District Court of the Southern District of Indiana, defined the limits of lawful dissent. Confusion on the point is so rampant among many youthful protesters that his words bear repeating.

Holder advised the jury, "Individuals who believe that the Vietnam war is illegal and immoral have the right under our system of government to express their views or to protest these events by any lawful means, such as peaceful picketing or parading.

"But the Constitution of the United States does not protect as a form of symbolic speech the destruction of public property and the hindering of the executive branch's administering the Selective Service law and violation of valid laws designed to protect society.

"If you find the defendants may have been motivated by the highest moral principles, and they may have been sincerely and passionately inspired, I instruct you that such motives do not confer immunity from prosecution or conviction for the violation of a valid law."

Judge Holder has stated a simple truth about the law which is not sufficiently understood today. The notion is abroad in the land that an individual has a right to avoid punishment. The fact of the matter is that a person who violates a valid law by way of protest cannot claim the protection of lofty motivation and must be willing to accept the consequences.

In Our Backyard

During the Johnson and Nixon administrations the White House has been almost totally absorbed with Red aggression in Southeast Asia while virtually ignoring Communist thrusts into the Western Hemisphere.

Except for President Johnson's decisive intervention to prevent a Castro takeover in the Dominican Republic in 1965, nothing much has been done to stop the Soviet Union's penetration south of Florida. Consequently, the Kremlin has quietly rebuilt its strategic forces in the Caribbean, making its Cuban beachhead once again a nuclear menace to the United States.

Soviet missile-carrying submarines are permanently based in Cuba, along with long-range bombers which can carry hydrogen bombs to all points of the United States. In addition, a Soviet fleet just recently maneuvered in the Caribbean Sea while the U. S. Navy canceled an exercise as an "economy" measure.

The response by the Nixon administration to the Kremlin's buildup has been simply to ignore the danger, which may be even a bigger threat than the 1962 missile crisis in which President Kennedy felt compelled to stand down Khrushchev. In placing offensive weapons in Cuba, Moscow has succeeded in outflanking the United States and in threatening the Panama Canal, which is a vital supply link to American soldiers in Southeast Asia.

The Nixon administration, in fact, has done worse than nothing. It has attempted to prevent others from parrying the Soviet thrust at America's vitals.

Operating on the fiction that Cuba is no threat to the United States, President Nixon has continued the policy, which began after the Bay of Pigs fiasco, of harassing Cuba refugees in this country who want to liberate their homeland from Communist tyranny. By land the FBI has broken up meetings and confiscated weapons. For example, in a recent episode federal agents raided Miami headquarters and hauled off a number of water canteens and military web belts. By sea the Coast Guard has hunted down and turned back invasion forces.

The sum effect is that the United States fights Communism halfway around the world while actively opposing exiles who try to fight Communism almost in our backyard.

Unfishy Fish Story Boosts Food Hopes

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

I thought it was a fish story. Well, it was a fish story. But not a fishy fish story, if you know what I mean.

The unfishy fish story concerns Howard J. Fremont, president of the newly formed Marine Protein Corp., who says the commercial growing of fish under rigorously controlled conditions in huge tanks—"comparable in size to farmers' silos"—is just around the corner. As this is written, Fremont is preparing to tell his fantastic tale to the Second World Food Congress at the Hague; if he convinces 1,200 delegates from all over the globe as he has convinced me, many worried people are going to stop worrying about the population explosion.

The fish explosion is about to counteract the scare stories of the ecologists, who have been making our flesh creep with their predictions that mankind will be starving to death inside of 30 years.

Fremont is convincing because he speaks in mechanical terms. Fish farming is old in world history; the Chinese were practicing it in ponds as far back as 1,000 B. C. But the best a one-acre pond has been able to do is to produce 3,000 pounds of protein in a year.

Fremont, by piling fish on top of fish in a sort of "aquaculture" skyscraper says he can raise a million pounds of fish per year per acre. His experimental plants in central Pennsylvania and in Florida, where his company is growing trout, salmon, catfish and pompano, are already showing the way.

Eight scientists worked for a long time on the details before Fremont's corporation, a closely-held one with offices at 600 Madison Ave. in New York City, decided that the "poultry miracle" of the mid-nineteen thirties, when chicken was brought within the pocketbook reach of the masses, could be paralleled by a "fish miracle" of the nineteen seventies.

The trick is to take the fish out of the savage environment of the oceans, rivers and lakes, where 95 per cent of the fingerlings born under natural conditions are killed by predators, pollution or simple starvation. By substituting a friendly environment for the jungle of the world's natural waterways, the scientists say they can reverse the death ratio.

The idea is to control the temperature of the "aquaculture" tanks—76 degrees Fahrenheit for catfish fingerlings, 57 degrees for trout—at the precise point that makes for the firmest flesh and the most satisfactory flavor. The food poured into the tanks is scientifically determined, a blend of sunflower seed, soy bean and ground-up fishheads which will get a pound of fish output for a pound and a half of dietary input. (In the foreseeable future, Mr. Fremont expects to raise oysters on the leftover foods that his fish reject.)

Using patented devices, the food is circulated in the tanks so that the fish on the bottom have the same diet as the fish on the top and in the middle. And, for marketing, the fish are taken out of the tanks by other patented methods which guarantee that they will not be bruised by the handling.

Fremont's enthusiasm might be discounted. But Dr. Gary L. Rumsey, the director of Research and Product Development for Agway, Inc., an animal feed production company, says that the discoveries of the marine scientists can be soberly accepted.

What will come out of it may be even better than is predicted. By setting aside the bigger fingerlings for breeding, the quality and size of the fish may be upgraded, much as the farm turkey has been upgraded over the wild turkey.

The life history of the salmon may be "recycled" to enable it to do without the long and dangerous migrations from the deep sea to the upper reaches of mountain rivers. Fresh water fish may be reconditioned to live in salt water, which improves both the mineral content and the taste of the protein. And the possibility of cross-breeding is being seriously entertained by fish geneticists.

Despite the gloom-saying ecologists, I have never doubted the ability of the human race to find ways to outwit old Thomas Malthus, who predicted a 150 years ago that the population growth must out-race the ability of the earth to support it. The economist David Ricardo, accepting the Malthusian doom-thesis, laid it down as an axiom that the agricultural limits of the earth's acres were fixed.

But the geneticists, the power-machinery boys and the fertilization and soil-structure experts made a monkey of Ricardo. Now we have the un-fishy fish story of Fremont. If the Japanese can raise oysters under controlled conditions, Fremont can surely do the same for fish in his big tanks.

Nixon Failed To Identify Real Inflation Fight

By JOHN CUNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — A curious omission from President Nixon's strategy against inflation is his reluctance to describe the enemy in terms that would help identify it for his fellow Americans in business and labor.

In his address on inflation and economic policy, the President stated:

"Now is the time for business at every level to take price actions more consistent with a stable cost of living. Now is the time for labor to structure its wage demands to better achieve a new stability of costs."

Explanation Needed But is there a businessman who can say specifically what price action the nation expects of him? And if he does decide to sacrifice his company's profits for a greater good, how does he explain it to the directors?

Is there a union leader who can, in clear conscience, decide to sacrifice a few cents on a wage agreement in order to make his contribution to stability? And if there is, how much should he sacrifice?

The President does recognize that such criteria can be developed, for he has advised his Council of Economic Advisors to prepare a periodic inflation alert. Oddly, however, the alert will come after the event.

Damages Already Done In other words, the council "will spotlight significant areas of wage and price increases and objectively analyze their impact on the price level." But presumably after the damage has been done

The inflation alert, therefore, will be unlike smog, tornado, air raid or any other alerts that man has devised to warn of impending danger.

For months the President has resisted suggestions that he provide some clear criterion that would permit business and labor leaders to judge, in advance, the inflationary potential of their price and wage demands.

Such a criterion would suggest guidelines, and the President has scorned a guidelines policy as "an attempt to dictate specific prices and wages without authority of law."

But guidelines are not dictates, as President Johnson found out. Johnson made the error of thinking that the government could continue to spend heavily and avoid inflation because, he believed, business and labor could be restrained by guidelines.

Criteria Not Accepted

He soon found out differently. Neither business nor labor ever accepted his criteria of inflation as dictatorial—only suggestive. And when they no longer could accept the suggestion, they simply ignored the guidelines.

Business and labor leaders today can rely on no simple indicator for determining the disruptive potential of their acts. And neither does the public. As Dr. Walter Heller, economic adviser to Presidents Kennedy and Johnson, puts it: "Nobody has defined the sin."

It isn't that business and labor don't believe the President's warning:

BIDDING QUIZ

You are South, neither side vulnerable. The bidding has been:

South West North East
2 ♣ Pass 2 NT Pass
3 ♠ Pass 3 NT Pass

What would you bid now with each of the following four hands?

1. ♠AKQ93 ♥A ♦7 ♣AQJ984
2. ♠AK95 ♥10 ♦AK6 ♣AKQJ7
3. ♠KQJ4 ♥AK ♦3 ♣AKQJ62
4. ♠AK32 ♥AK ♦AK ♣KQJ103

1. Four spades. Up to this point, partner probably thought you had five or six clubs and four spades. By bidding four spades at this juncture, you identify a five-card spade suit, since it would make no sense to rebid an unsupported four-card suit.

At the same time, the spade rebid strongly suggests a holding of six clubs because, had the suits been equal in length, you would have opened with two spades, not two clubs.

While this is a promising hand for slam purposes, you cannot safely bid more than four spades. If there's a slam, the impetus will have to come from North, whose first two bids were extremely discouraging.

2. Pass. Of course, it's both dangerous and unpleasant to pass with a singleton heart, but it would be still more dangerous to bid. Since North seems unable to support either of your suits, he is likely to have sufficient length or strength in hearts to stop the opponents from waltzing off with five heart tricks right away. Your best chance is to play for nine tricks in notrump—and you have them right in the palm of your hand.

3. Five clubs. You can't risk playing notrump with this lay-out—there are only eight quick tricks this time—so you aim to trick the hand in a suit. North can't have four spades or he would have raised spades, and accordingly you settle for five clubs. Practically all you need for eleven tricks is the ten of spades.

The alternative bid is four clubs, but some players would not treat that as forcing and it is probably better to take the strain off partner by leaping to five clubs.

4. Four notrump. This is not Blackwood. It is simply a raise in notrump that asks partner to continue the bidding with the slightest excuse. Naturally, four notrump is a powerful bid, since it guarantees ten tricks opposite a Yarborough. However, North is permitted to pass.

Your principal hope is that North has the queen of spades and will give it due weight in deciding whether or not to go on. He can reason that it is worth at least one or two tricks.

Anxious Teen Goes Nowhere, Mom Mad

Dear Ann Landers: Our 14-year-old son is driving me nuts. In this state, a driver can get a learner's permit at 15. Jim won't be 15 until October. He sits in the driveway by the hour—backing up and going forward. Then he drives in the garage and out of the garage. Over the weekend he used a half a tank of gas and didn't go anywhere.

Jim reads everything on car safety he can lay his hands on. He has memorized the material he needs to know in order to get his license.

I wish he paid as much attention to his school work. The boy eats, sleeps and dreams cars. Is this normal? His older brothers were not like this. Any suggestions—Sheboygan.

Dear She: A 14-year-old boy could be reading worse things than the driver's manual. Don't worry. This, too, shall pass. He sounds O.K. to me.

Dear Ann Landers: Father died and left Mom with eight children. I had to learn to sew because it was cheaper than buying ready-made things. I sewed better than my three sisters so, of course, I sewed for everybody. There were times when I wanted to go someplace, but I had to stay home and sew. My sisters never missed a party or a ball game. I missed a good many social events, but I didn't mind because I knew the sewing had to be done.

Now, it is 40 years later and I don't want to sew anymore. But my family has other ideas. We were invited to spend two weeks with my sister. When I arrived she handed me material for draperies, a bed spread with dust ruffles, and three dresses. I was speechless. I told my husband I thought she had a lot of nerve. He yelled at me—said I should be proud of my talent—and insisted that I smile and keep my mouth shut. I spent the whole two weeks sewing.

When we left for home my husband had a beautiful tan. I was white as a lily. My sister said, "I'm so glad you spent your vacation with us!" I said, "WHAT vacation? I haven't worked so hard in years." My husband criticized me for being ungracious—said there must be something wrong with my head to talk that way. I'd like your opinion—Sewed up Dear Sewed: There's something wrong with your head all right. You should have told your sister that you didn't care to spend your vacation sewing and to hire a seamstress. If you let this happen again, you deserve it, Lady.

Dear Ann Landers: How can I help a friend who takes too many pills and lies about it constantly. She tells everyone she's afraid to take an aspirin for a headache.

We were at a party the other night and her purse fell open. Out tumbled six or seven small bottles. I helped her put the pills back in the bottles. I suddenly understood why she slurs her words and staggers around complaining about "inner - ear trouble." When we play bridge, her hands shake so badly she can't hold a glass of water. Yesterday she appeared to be near the breaking point. Should I keep quiet or try to help?—Garden Grove, Calif.

Dear G. G.: By all means say something. Tell your friend she must let her doctor know precisely how much medication she is taking. Some people don't realize that mixing pills can be dangerous and pills mixed with liquor can be fatal.

Fresh water fish may be reconditioned to live in salt water, which improves both the mineral content and the taste of the protein. And the possibility of cross-breeding is being seriously entertained by fish geneticists.

Despite the gloom-saying ecologists, I have never doubted the ability of the human race to find ways to outwit old Thomas Malthus, who predicted a 150 years ago that the population growth must out-

race the ability of the earth to support it. The economist David Ricardo, accepting the Malthusian doom-thesis, laid it down as an axiom that the agricultural limits of the earth's acres were fixed.

But the geneticists, the power-machinery boys and the fertilization and soil-structure experts made a monkey of Ricardo. Now we have the un-fishy fish story of Fremont. If the Japanese can raise oysters under controlled conditions, Fremont can surely do the same for fish in his big tanks.

Nixon Failed To Identify Real Inflation Fight Foe

By JOHN CUNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — A curious omission from President Nixon's strategy against inflation is his reluctance to describe the enemy in terms that would help identify it for his fellow Americans in business and labor.

In his address on inflation and economic policy, the President stated:

"Now is the time for business at every level to take price actions more consistent with a stable cost of living. Now is the time for labor to structure its wage demands to better achieve a new stability of costs."

Explanation Needed
But is there a businessman who can say specifically what price action the nation expects of him? And if he does decide to sacrifice his company's profits for a greater good, how does he explain it to the directors?

Is there a union leader who can, in clear conscience, decide to sacrifice a few cents on a wage agreement in order to make his contribution to stability? And if there is, how much should he sacrifice?

The President does recognize that such criteria can be developed, for he has advised his Council of Economic Advisers to prepare a periodic inflation alert. Oddly, however, the alert will come after the event.

Damage Already Done
In other words, the council "will spotlight significant areas of wage and price increases and objectively analyze their impact on the price level." But presumably after the damage has been done

The inflation alert, therefore, will be unlike smog, tornado, air raid or any other alert that man has devised to warn of impending danger.

For months the President has resisted suggestions that he provide some clear criterion that would permit business and labor leaders to judge, in advance, the inflationary potential of their price and wage demands.

Guidelines Ignored
Such a criterion would suggest guidelines, and the President has scorned a guidelines policy as "an attempt to dictate specific prices and wages without authority of law."

But guidelines are not dictates, as President Johnson found out. Johnson made the error of thinking that the government could continue to spend heavily and avoid inflation because, he believed, business and labor could be restrained by guidelines.

Criteria Not Accepted
He soon found out differently. Neither business nor labor ever accepted his criteria of inflation as dictatorial—only suggestive. And when they no longer could accept the suggestion, they simply ignored the guidelines.

Business and labor leaders today can rely on no simple indicator for determining the disruptive potential of their acts. And neither does the public. As Dr. Walter Heller, economic adviser to Presidents Kennedy and Johnson, puts it: "Nobody has defined the sin."

It isn't that business and labor don't believe the President's warning:

BIDDING QUIZ

You are South, neither side vulnerable. The bidding has been:

South	West	North	East
2♣	Pass	2NT	Pass
3♠	Pass	3NT	Pass

What would you bid now with each of the following four hands?

1. ♠AKQ83 ♥A ♦7 ♣AQJ954
2. ♠AK95 ♥10 ♠AK6 ♣AKQJ7
3. ♠KQJ4 ♥AK ♦3 ♣AKQJ62
4. ♠AK32 ♥AK ♦AK ♣KQJ103

1. Four spades. Up to this point, partner probably thought you had five or six clubs and four spades. By bidding four spades at this juncture, you identify a five-card spade suit, since it would make no sense to rebid an unsupported four-card suit.

At the same time, the spade rebid strongly suggests a holding of six clubs because, had the suits been equal in length, you would have opened with two spades, not two clubs.

While this is a promising hand for slam purposes, you cannot safely bid more than four spades. If there's a slam, the impetus will have to come from North, whose first two bids were extremely discouraging.

2. Pass. Of course, it's both dangerous and unpleasant to pass with a singleton heart, but it would be still more dangerous to bid. Since North seems unable to support either of your suits, he is likely to have sufficient length or strength in hearts to stop the opponents from waltzing off with five heart tricks right away. Your best chance is to play for nine tricks in notrump—and you have them right in the palm of your hand.

3. Five clubs. You can't risk playing notrump with this layout—there are only eight quick tricks this time—so you aim to play the hand in a suit. North can't have four spades or he would have raised spades, and accordingly you settle for five clubs. Practically all you need for eleven tricks is the ten of spades.

The alternative bid is four clubs, but some players would not treat that as forcing and it is probably better to take the strain off partner by leaping to five clubs.

4. Four notrump. This is not Blackwood. It is simply a raise in notrump that asks partner to continue the bidding with the slightest excuse. Naturally, four notrump is a powerful bid, since it guarantees ten tricks opposite a Yarborough. However, North is permitted to pass.

Your principal hope is that North has the queen of spades and will give it due weight in deciding whether or not to go on. He can reason that it is worth at least one or two tricks.

Ann Landers

Anxious Teen Goes Nowhere, Mom Mad

Dear Ann Landers: Our 14-year-old son is driving me nuts. In this state, a driver can get a learner's permit at 15. Jim won't be 15 until October. He sits in the driveway by the hour—backing up and going forward. Then he drives in the garage and out of the garage. Over the weekend he used a half a tank of gas and didn't go anywhere.

Jim reads everything on car safety he can lay his hands on. He has memorized the material he needs to know in order to get his license.

I wish he paid as much attention to his school work. The boy eats, sleeps and dreams cars. Is this normal? His older brothers were not like this. Any suggestions—Sheboygan.

Dear She: A 14-year-old boy could be reading worse things than the driver's manual. Don't worry. This, too, shall pass. He sounds O.K. to me.

Dear Ann Landers: Father died and left Mom with eight children. I had to learn to sew because it was cheaper than buying ready-made things. I sewed better than my three sisters so, of course, I sewed for everybody. There were times when I wanted to go someplace, but I had to stay home and sew. My sisters never missed a party or a ball game. I missed a good many social events, but I didn't mind because I knew the sewing had to be done.

Now, it is 40 years later and I don't want to sew anymore. But my family has other ideas. We were invited to spend two weeks with my sister. When I arrived she handed me material for draperies, a bed spread with dust ruffles, and three dresses. I was speechless. I told my husband I thought she had a lot of nerve. He yelled at me—said I should be proud of my talent—and insisted that I smile and keep my mouth shut. I spent the whole two weeks sewing.

When we left for home my husband had a beautiful tan. I was white as a lily. My sister said, "I'm so glad you spent your vacation with us!" I said, "WHAT vacation? I haven't worked so hard in years." My husband criticized me for being ungracious—said there must be something wrong with my head to talk that way. I'd like your opinion. —Sewed Up

Dear Sewed: There's something wrong with your head all right. You should have told your sister that you didn't care to spend your vacation sewing and to hire a seamstress. If you let this happen again, you deserve it, Lady.

Dear Ann Landers: How can I help a friend who takes too many pills and lies about it constantly. She tells everyone she's afraid to take an aspirin for a headache.

We were at a party the other night and her purse fell open. Out tumbled six or seven small bottles. I helped her put the pills back in the bottles. I suddenly understood why she slurs her words and staggers around complaining about "inner - ear trouble." When we play bridge, her hands shake so badly she can't hold a glass of water. Yesterday she appeared to be near the breaking point. Should I keep quiet or try to help?—Garden Grove, Calif.

Dear G. G.: By all means say something. Tell your friend she must let her doctor know precisely how much medication she is taking. Some people don't realize that mixing pills can be dangerous and pills mixed with liquor can be fatal.

Widow Of Medal Of Honor Winner Enlists In Army

SANTA CLARA, Calif. (AP)—Shirley Jean Bellrichard, 25, widow of a Medal of Honor winner killed in Vietnam, joined the Army today to carry on for her husband.

"I'm nervous and feeling butterflies," she said as she signed enlistment papers at the Army's recruiting station in Alameda before a battery of television cameras.

"I want to see some of the things he saw," Mrs. Bellrichard said a year after visiting the White House to receive from President Nixon the award for Pfc. Leslie Bellrichard.

The 25-year-old soldier from Janesville, Wis., was a fire-team leader in central Vietnam on May 20, 1967, when an enemy shell burst threw him off balance an instant after he pulled a grenade pin.

The grenade fell into a fox-hole he was sharing with four other soldiers. He deliberately fell on the grenade, using his body to shield his comrades as it exploded.

He survived a few minutes, firing his rifle at the charging enemy until he died.

After swearing-in ceremonies at Oakland Army Induction Center, Mrs. Bellrichard will go to Ft. McClellan, Ala., for eight weeks of basic training. She said she wants to become an Army nurse. She already has studied nursing for 10 months at nearby Pothill College.

By enlisting, Mrs. Bellrichard forfeits $350 to $400 a month in Army and other survivor benefits in exchange for a private's pay of $124.60 a month, the Army said.

Glistening Glaze Gives Basic Beef Loaf New Appeal

Sure, meat loaf is familiar standby but each loaf can taste different. The secret—vary the ingredients or shape or add a topping.

For example the National Live Stock and Meat Board, suggests adding celery for crunch and catsup topping to glaze.

Bonus Meat Loaf

2 pounds ground beef
1/4 cup finely chopped onion
1/2 cup finely chopped celery

1/2 cup fine cracker crumbs
1/2 cup milk
1 1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1/4 cup catsup
1 tablespoon corn syrup
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
3 to 4 stuffed green olives, sliced

Combine group beef, onion and celery. Mix cracker crumbs, egg, milk, salt and pepper. Add to ground beef mixture. Mix well. Shape meat mixture into a loaf 10 x 4 x 2 inches on a rack in an open roasting oven (325 degrees) 1 hour. Combine catsup, corn syrup and Worcestershire sauce and mix well. After meat loaf bakes 1 hour, brush with 2 tablespoons catsup mixture and continue baking 15 minutes. Brush again with remaining mixture and bake 15 minutes longer. Let stand 10 minutes before slicing. Garnish with olives. 6 to 8 servings.

Glistening Glaze Gives Basic Beef Loaf New Appeal

Sure, meat loaf is familiar standby but each loaf can taste different. The secret — vary the ingredients or shape or add a topping.

For example the National Live Stock and Meat Board, suggests adding celery for crunch and catsup topping to glaze.

Bonus Meat Loaf
2 pounds ground beef
1/2 cup finely chopped onion
1/2 cup finely chopped celery

1/2 cup fine cracker crumbs
1/2 cup milk
1 1/2 teaspoon salt
1/8 teaspoon pepper
1/2 cup catsup
1 tablespoon corn syrup
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
3 to 4 stuffed green olives, sliced

Combine group beef, onion and celery. Mix cracker crumbs, egg, milk, salt and pepper. Add to ground beef mixture. Mix well. Shape meat mixture into a loaf 10 x 4 x 2 inches on a rack in an open roasting oven (325 degrees) 1 hour. Combine catsup, corn syrup and Worcestershire sauce and mix well. After meat loaf bakes 1 hour, brush with 2 tablespoons catsup mixture and continue baking 15 minutes. Brush again with remaining mixture and bake 15 minutes longer. Let stand 10 minutes before slicing. Garnish with olives, 6 to 8 servings.

Q—I intend to buy carpet floor tiles soon and put them down in the family room in our house. Is there a special kind of cement necessary?

A—Cement is not needed. Many brands of carpet tiles have adhesive already applied to the foam rubber backing. You remove paper backing and press the tiles into position. If you buy carpet tiles that are not pre-pasted, your best bet is to use double-faced carpet tape. One of the advantages of the tape is that if you wish to rotate any tiles later on to equalize wear, the tiles can be lifted. While the 9- and 12-inch tile squares are the most popular, some persons prefer the 18- and 20-inch squares for extra large areas. These larger sizes usually do not need any adhesive or special treatment because the foam rubber backing creates a vacuum that grips the floor.

COLONIAL FEATURES dominate this five-bedroom ranch, with combination of brick and hand split shingles on exterior. Note barn loft door in the front gable of garage.

Relax In Tasteful Colonial

By ANDY LANG

There's a pleasing domestic character to this Colonial. A touch of elegance is added to the natural simplicity of the design by combining brick, hand split shingles, a black roof and white trim in just the right proportions. The brick color provides enough contrast to add interest in a manner reserved for a house whose owners have discriminating taste.

Because the house is fairly sizable, it can be assumed that the plot of ground on which it is built will provide the areas to take advantage of rear and yard privacy. Therefore, architect Herman H. York located the two principal living spaces, the living room and the family room, so that they have immediate access to a patio. And it can safely be predicted that this outdoor living area will become a popular gathering place for family and friends.

The family room is open to the kitchen, with a "balcony" railing along one side of the kitchen eating space. A separate entrance at the rear leads to a laundry room with laundry. One advantage of this arrangement is that, on arriving home from work, the man of the house can wash up on his way in, settle into a lounging chair in the family room and, with his feet on an ottoman, read a newspaper or watch television while enjoying the warmth of a glowing fire in the nearby fireplace. Should the weather permit, he can step outside through conveniently located sliding glass doors to the patio and relax before dinner.

There seems to be an increasing demand for the master bedroom to be located on the first floor. This has been done here. And the architect has added a bonus in the form of a second room which can be used as a study, a sitting room with an opening to the owners' bedroom or as a guest room. This flexibility is possible because there are three more bedrooms on the second floor. Thus, the house can grow as rooms are needed or can be finished immediately as a five-bedroom layout.

A split bathroom on the first floor has entrances from the master bedroom and the hall. There is a large walk-in closet adjacent to a dressing alcove.

Upstairs, in addition to the three bedrooms, there is another split bathroom with four fixtures arranged for dual use.

The necessary headroom for the second floor is obtained by the use of a rear continuous dormer. From the front of the house, this dormer cannot be seen, preserving the appearance of a typical home of the Colonial period.

While the garage doors, facing the front, can be moved to the side of the house, some of the charm of the elevation as shown is found in the barn loft door in the front gable of the garage. There is a full cellar

ON THE HOUSE

By ANDY LANG

AP Newsfeatures Writer

It's a rare old house indeed that doesn't have at least one window with a broken sash cord.

If a window must be propped up to keep it from slamming down, it means that the sash cord probably has come apart. Because it appears to be a repair that shouldn't be tackled except by an expert and because there doesn't seem to be any emergency, it rarely gets fixed.

It is possible, however, for any home owner to replace a sash cord with a few simple tools and by following certain directions. The replacement can be made with a sash rope and weight or with one of the more modern methods of opening and closing windows. Using sash chains rather than cords provides double-hung, vertically sliding windows with both extra durability and workability.

Sash chain and accessories are available in bulk or in packages in most hardware and building supply stores. It takes from 10 to 12 feet of sash chain per average-sized window plus four individual spiral spring fasteners and hooks in metals to match the chain finish.

The only tools required are a hammer, small chisel or screwdriver and a pair of pliers with a sharp wire-cutter to cut the chain to desired lengths. Here's how the job is done:

1—With the window shut, take a chisel or screwdriver and hammer and loosen and pry off wooden strips holding the windows in place at the top and both sides. Be sure you gently remove them to avoid splitting at the corners or in the middle. Remove the top and bottom window units and set them aside.

2—On each side of each window, you will find two sash weights suspended inside the window channels by old sash ropes, one or both of which will be broken. To expose and get at these weights, unscrew the interior wooden cover from the top and bottom of both sides. Remove the ropes from the sash weights and from the pulleys on each side of the window channel.

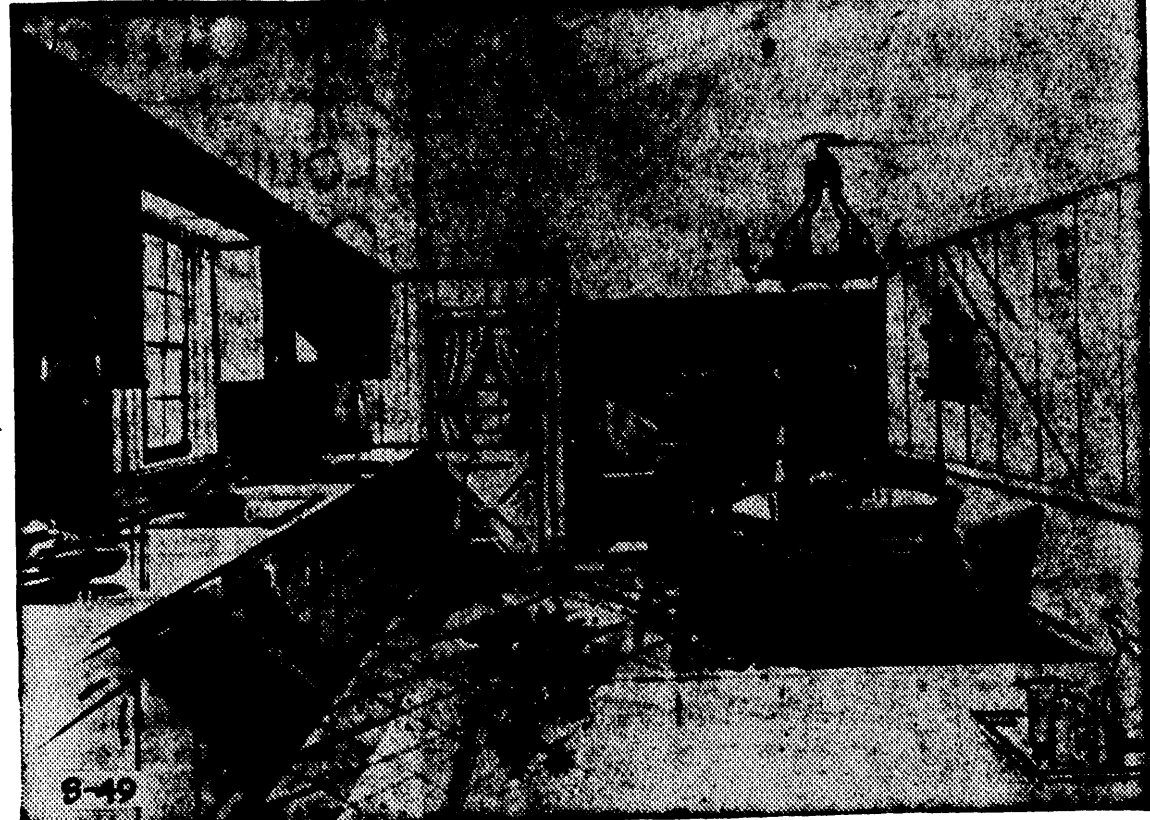

3—Guide the "eye" end of the sash chain over the pulley, leaving the other "closed" end of the chain hanging inside the window frame. Thread the closed end through the opening in one end of the sash weight. Take one of the metal sash hooks and thread the narrow loop of the hook through the closed end of the chain. Then fasten the wider end of the hook around the chain to hold it firmly to the sash weight.

Take the open eye of the same chain and thread it through the spiral spring fastener to the middle of the spring until the chain is suspended. Place the chains and spring in the recesses of the sash.

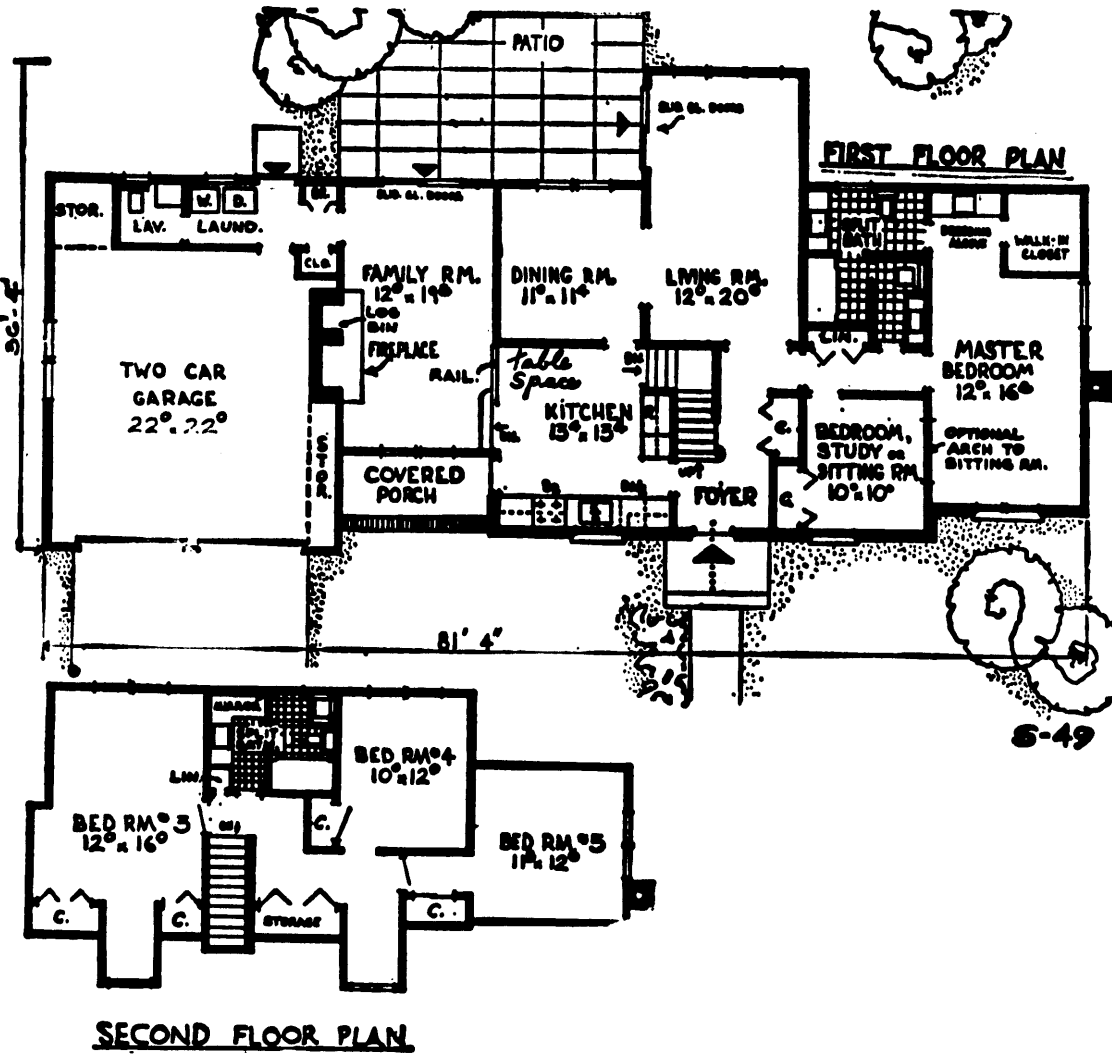

Repeat this process for the top and bottom sashes and pulleys on each window of the interior wood channel. Make sure all four hooks are firmly closed and that the chain is securely held in the middle of all four spiral springs.

You then replace the top and bottom of the window, holding both sections in place until you have secured them by replacing the wooden parting strips at the top and both sides. Finally, resail the wooden strips.

These instructions, which may seem involved to someone who has never worked on a window, can be followed quite easily by taking each step in turn.

DOOR AT one end of kitchen leads to a covered porch. Beyond low railing is the family room with brick fireplace.

FLOOR PLANS: Living room and family room have access to rear patio. Door in kitchen leads to front covered porch. Archway can be made in master bedroom wall to provide sitting room for owners.

TV Networks Feel Economic Squeeze

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP) — The economic squeeze that is shrinking the family's pocketbook is also hitting the television networks. They are reacting the way the average citizen does: looking for places to economize.

Television's austerity budgets probably will not be noticeable until fall, if then, but the 1970-71 season promises to be difficult. Cigarette advertising which totals as much as $250 million a year will disappear after New Year's Day. There are hopes of attracting new sponsors to fill the void, but other corporations also are watching their budgets. CBS is on an especially vigorous economy effort. Omitted from next season's schedule will be the network's expensive but prestigious "CBS Playhouse" series of three or four original dramas; "CBS Children's Playhouse," each of which costs as much as an adult dramatic production; and the long-playing "Young People's Concerts."

NBC's "On Stage" series of original dramas has lost its insurance sponsor and unless another happens along, it will be among the missing next fall.

All networks think twice about replacements for executives and other personnel. Contracts of three NBC News producers which expired in recent months have not been renewed, including those of George Vicas who has been turning out documentaries in Europe and Al Morgan, former "Today" producer who has been developing new projects.

Both NBC and ABC says that their program schedules will not be affected by economies. While CBS is expected to cut its number of specials, NBC and ABC, which usually has fewer specials than the other two networks, say they plan no reductions.

Economies can be made unobtrusively. The cost of the average hour-long episode in a dramatic series runs around $200,000. Networks are planning seasons of 24 to 26 episodes per series, which means that more than half of each television year will be devoted to reruns.

It is also possible to cut down on elaborate sets and costumes; hire less expensive guest stars, put fewer musicians in the bands, reduce or eliminate scenes requiring lots of extras, and eliminate or cut back on location shooting.

White Supremacy Group Ejected From Legion Hall

ECORSE (AP) — A white supremacist organization called Statecraft, which planned to hold a "white rights rally Monday at the Ecorse American Legion Hall, has been evicted from the building.

The rally, according to the group's state director, Patrick Tifer of Center Line, is still going to be held, either outside the hall or in another building in Ecorse if one can be found.

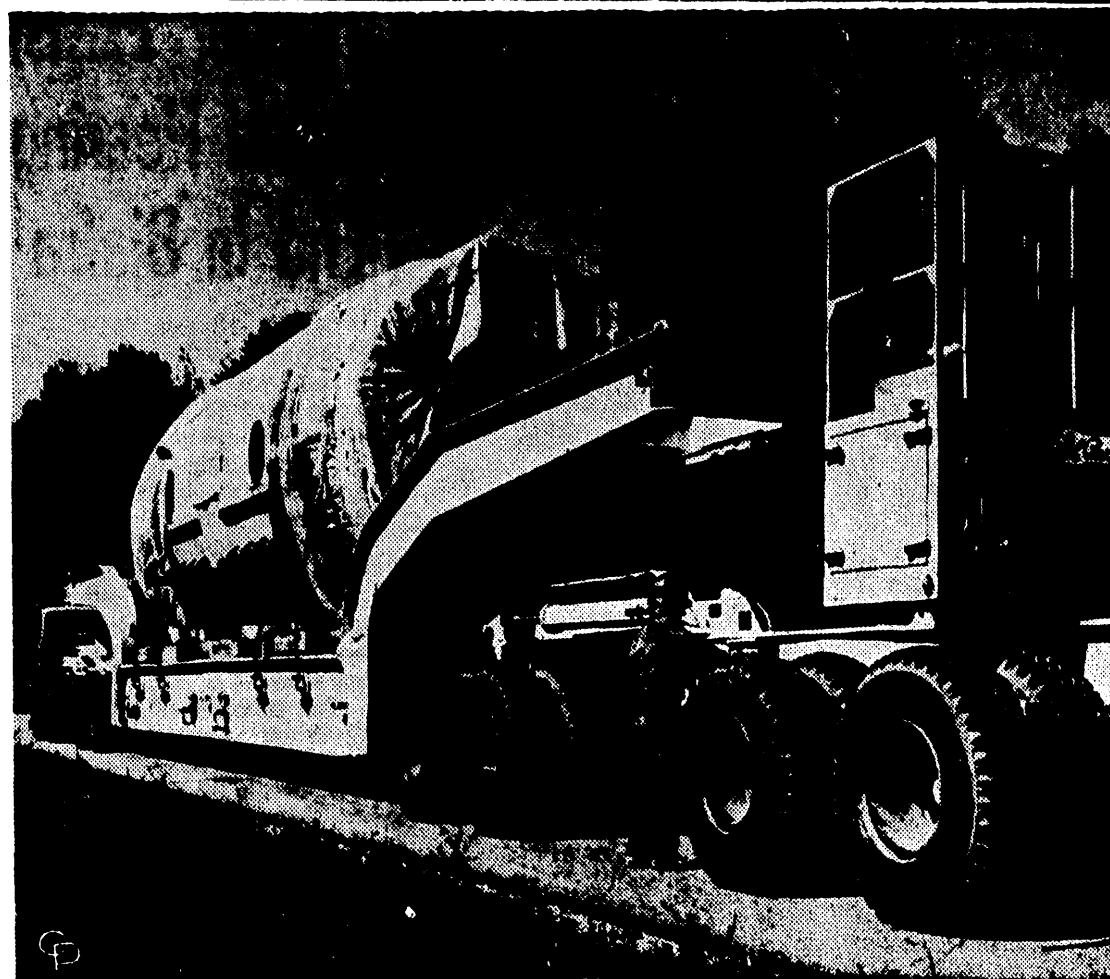

Legion Post 272 said it was unaware of Statecraft's philosophy, and had routinely rented its hall for what it thought was simply "a citizens meeting."

Statecraft last weekend distributed hundreds of handbills in Ecorse, which is racially integrated, to publicize the rally. The handbills, among other things, referred to "liberal school administrators promoting interracial dating. The Legion said the purpose of the rally, as stated on the handbill, is strictly contrary to the aims of the Legion.

W. Germany OKs Lower Voting Age

BONN, Germany (AP) — West Germany has lowered the minimum age for voters in federal elections to 18.

The Bundestag — parliament — gave final approval to a bill lowering the voting age from 21. The bill, which now becomes law, got more than the required two-thirds majority in the 496-vote house.

Ontario Seeking Pollution Help From Motor City

TORONTO (AP) — Ontario will seek Detroit's cooperation in controlling air pollution over its neighboring city of Windsor, Ont., George Kerr, energy and resources management minister, said this week.

He said coordinated programs will be essential when the province establishes an air pollution index system in Windsor.

Kerr said Detroit already has a measuring system that he thought should help Windsor on days when pollution is bad.

Otherwise, he said, "all we can do is ask for cooperation."

GLADSTONE Sewage Treatment Plan Is Studied

A cost study of two types of wastewater treatment was authorized at a special meeting of the city commission Wednesday evening after hearing reports from representatives of Williams and Works Engineering Co.

A new type of processing wastewater, now under study by the government at Ann Arbor called Rotating Biological Disc treatment, will be considered along with the more common Activated Sludge type of treatment, to be used in the proposed Wastewater Treatment plant in Gladstone.

In other business the commission authorized the purchase of an addressograph from Addressograph Multigraph Corp. of Green Bay to be used for billing of utilities at a cost of $6,779; passed a resolution to update the Workable Program necessary to obtain a grant for Urban Renewal; and were informed of interviews next week of two applicants for the position of city water plant operator.

Robert Miller, commander of August Mattson Post 71, American Legion, and Joe McGonagle, 818 Wisconsin Ave., appeared before the commission to request assistance in renewing an old custom of treating the youngsters to free ice cream and watermelon on the Fourth of July.

While the financial assistance was not authorized at this time the commissioners responded when the hat was passed for a free will offering.

TV Networks Feel Economic Squeeze

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP) — The economic squeeze that is shrinking the family's pocketbook is also hitting the television networks. They are reacting the way the average citizen does: looking for places to economize.

Television's austerities budgets probably will not be noticeable until fall, if then, but the 1970-71 season promises to be difficult. Cigarette advertising which totals as much as $250 million a year will disappear after New Year's Day. There are hopes of attracting new sponsors to fill the void, but other corporations also are watching their budgets.

CBS is on an especially vigorous economy effort. Omitted from next season's schedule will be the network's expensive but prestigious "CBS Playhouse" series of three or four original dramas; "CBS Children's Playhouse," each of which costs as much as an adult dramatic production, and the long-playing "Young People's Concerts."

NBC's "On Stage" series of original dramas has lost its insurance sponsor and unless another happens along, it will be among the missing next fall.

All networks think twice about replacements for executives and other personnel. Contracts of three NBC News producers which expired in recent months have not been renewed, including those of George Vicas who has been turning out documentaries in Europe and Al Morgan, former "Today" producer who has been developing new projects.

Both NBC and ABC says that their program schedules will not be affected by economies. While CBS is expected to cut its number of specials, NBC and ABC, which usually has fewer specials than the other two networks, say they plan no reductions.

Economies can be made unobtrusively. The cost of the average hour-long episode in a dramatic series runs around $200,000. Networks are planning seasons of 24 to 26 episodes per series, which means that more than half of each television year will be devoted to reruns.

It is also possible to cut down on elaborate sets and costumes; hire less expensive guest stars, put fewer musicians in the bands, reduce or eliminate scenes requiring lots of extras, and eliminate or cut back on location shooting.

The last of NBC's "American Rainbow" series of children's programs, "A Kid's Eye View of Washington" will be broadcast Saturday at 11:30 a.m.-12:30 p.m. EDT.

Art Linkletter will guide four youngsters to points of interest around the capital.

When the series returns it will be NBC's "Children's Theatre" because it has lost the sponsor who keyed his advertising to the title.

Preliminary Hearing Opens On LSD Possession Charge

By MIKE UTT
Preliminary hearing of a case charging Rodney Cartwright, 17, of Escanaba with possession of LSD began in District Court Thursday before Judge Dean Shipman.
Shortly before 5 p. m. Thursday, Judge Shipman temporarily adjourned the hearing until 8:30 a. m. Monday and Cartwright was released on a $1,000 surety bond. He had been in the Delta County Jail since his arrest in lieu of $2,500 bond.

Cyclist Slain In Shoot-Out

PONTIAC (AP) — Residents' complaints about a noisy motorcycle led to a shoot-out on an Oakland County road Thursday night which left one man dead and a sheriff's deputy wounded.
Deputy Dale Rose stopped the motorcycle in Commerce Township just before midnight and ordered its two riders to wait until he radioed to police headquarters.
He was told the motorcycle had been stolen in Detroit May 11.

A mother and two children standing on their front porch said they then saw one of the men pull out a gun. When the deputy resisted, they said the man fired two shots, one grazing Rose's hand and the other shattering the bone in his left arm.
Rose managed to fire four shots at Clarence F. Cadeau, 30, and he died in Pontiac General Hospital shortly after midnight.
Four persons in a car that was accompanying the motorcycle were stopped. Police said two of them were held for questioning and the other two released.

They told police they all had met at a Detroit bar earlier in the evening and were lost on their way to a swimming party on Oakland County's Elizabeth Lake.
Rose was reported in satisfactory condition in Pontiac General Hospital. Married and in his 40s, Rose became a deputy two years ago after 22 years in the Army.
Police said Cadeau was released from Southern Michigan Prison last January to the custody of his father, who lives in Detroit.

On the afternoon of that date two girls, ages four and seven years old, who live on the city's west side, became ill from tasting pellets which they found hidden in the neighborhood.

Suffered Hallucinations
They suffered hallucinations, acted irrationally and were rushed to St. Francis Hospital for treatment. They were hospitalized for several days.

Both girls appeared in the court room Thursday and Beauchamp called the older girl to the witness stand to testify as to what happened on the day in question.

The girl said that she and her sister had gone to find pine cones to give to their grandmother and in the process, they found a bottle containing the pellets and an empty matchbox. She said that both of them had eaten some of the pellets and then went to play in a sand hill near their home.

Beauchamp also called the girls' father to the stand to testify and he said that upon receiving an emergency phone call from his wife at work, he immediately went home.

Searches Area
He said that he and his wife then took the two girls to the hospital in their car. After waiting at the hospital for a while, the father said that he realized he was not able to do anything there and decided to go back to the area where the girls had been playing to see if he could find what had caused their strange behavior.

Upon arriving at the sand hill near his home, the father said that he began searching around and found a matchbox containing several pellets wrapped in foil. He showed what he had found to Officer Ron Kaltenbach of the Escanaba Police.

Briefly Told
Escanaba police are investigating the theft of four bottles of wine and three six-packs of beer from a truck at Central West Distributors last night.

Dale Dubord, 5, of 423 S. 14th St., was treated at St. Francis Hospital and released after he was injured at 4:07 p. m. Thursday in a traffic accident on the 400 block S. 14th St. He stepped into the street and was struck by a car driven by Becky Estrin, 808 S. 13th St., who was unable to avoid the accident.

Delta-Merry Mixers Square Dance Club is sponsoring a free spaghetti supper for all paid members Sunday, June 21, at 6:30 at the Flat Rock Townhall. A club dance will follow the supper at 8 p. m. and all square dancers are welcome. Steve Baltic will do the calling.

State Police are investigating the malicious destruction of a Perkins school bus. Officers said several windows had been broken in the bus while it was parked in the school bus garage at Perkins. The windows had been broken by rocks, police said, sometime during the past two weeks.

The social that was scheduled for Sunday for the Senior Citizens Club has been canceled due to Father's Day. The social has been rescheduled for Wednesday at 7 p. m. with a business meeting to follow the social.

Nino Green, Democratic candidate for Congress in the 11th District, announced that Elnora Vade of Escanaba has been named chairman of Volunteers for Organization of volunteer supporters of Green's congressional candidacy. Mrs. Vade, a teacher in the Escanaba Area Public School system, has held numerous positions within the Democratic party. She represents the 11th District on the Democratic Party's State Central Committee.

Department. The pellets were taken to the hospital to help in diagnosing what was wrong with the children.

Also called to the stand by Beauchamp were Norman Mausolf, a chemist at the Crime Laboratory in Lansing for the Public Health Department, who made tests on the pellets and determined that they were LSD; Mrs. Clareanne Kaltenbach, who lives in the area where the children had been playing and who helped search the sand hill; Gary Besson of the Escanaba Police Department and Ronald Kaltenbach, also of the police department.

Green Objects
Before the hearing was temporarily adjourned Thursday, Gary Abrahamson, 2701 5th Ave. S., was called to the stand by Beauchamp.

Nino Green, defense attorney, objected to a question asking Abrahamson what Cartwright had said to him.

Green's objection had to do with the fact that no corpus delicti, the body of the case, had been established and that hearsay evidence could not be used to establish corpus delicti.

Judge Shipman sustained the objection after a recess to check into the matter, saying that the prosecution had not yet established that a crime had been committed and it must be proven before any hearsay evidence is introduced.

The preliminary hearing is to determine whether or not a crime has been committed and if their probable cause to send Cartwright to Circuit Court for trial on a felony charge.

Councilman Gets Into 'Hair' Of 2 Fellow Workers

DETROIT (AP) — Two fellow Detroit Common Councilmen have panned Mel Ravitz' coatless participation Wednesday night in the finale of the controversial rock musical "Hair."
Councilman William Rogell said Thursday he would rather go fishing than see the musical, then added, "I don't give a damn if he danced on his head."
Councilman Anthony Wierzbicki also expressed his doubts about the propriety of the participation. Wierzbicki, who last week suggested a boycott of the play, said he did not think Ravitz' actions "were appropriate for a councilman."

Councilman Robert Tindal also attended Wednesday night's benefit performance for the Urban Alliance here. It was reported Tindal also danced in the finale, but he could not be reached to confirm it.

Ravitz, 45, a sociology professor at Wayne State University, however, said, "I was asked if I would join the cast on the stage and I did. I participated, and I enjoyed it thoroughly."

Son Being Held In Strangulation Of Mother, 40

LIVONIA (AP)—Police took a 15-year-old Livonia boy into custody after they said his mother was found strangled to death with a seven-foot bull whip.
Iris Lewis, 40, was found lying in the middle of the bedroom, strangled with the braided bull whip twisted around her neck, police said.

Mildred Belch of Livonia, the dead woman's aunt, had begun searching for her after receiving a phone call from the victim's husband, George Lewis, who told police he had been away on a business trip in Iowa.

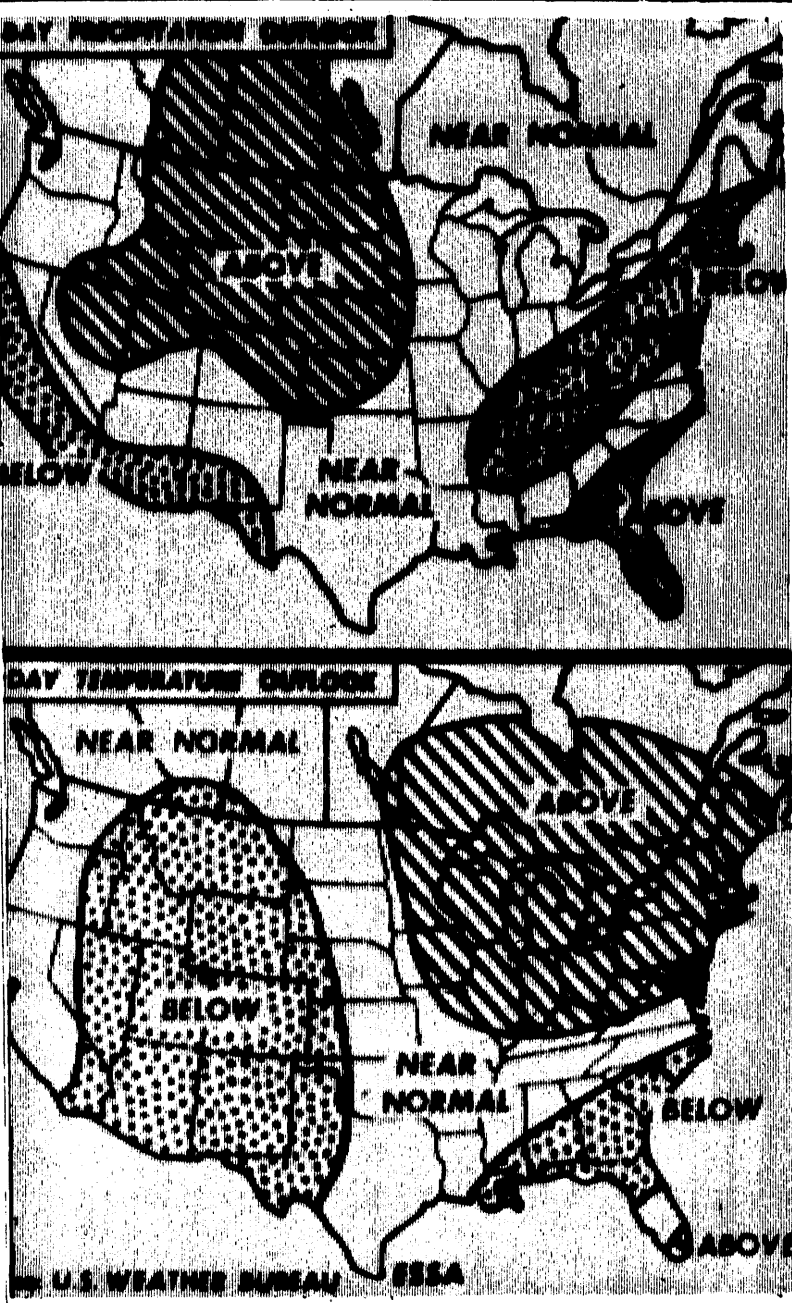

Mrs. Belch said Lewis had tried unsuccessfully all night to reach his wife on the phone and was "concerned."

Livonia Police said they would make no comment on the detention of the boy until their investigation is completed.

Two Sault Area Escapees Sought

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP)—Authorities were seeking two men today who escaped from the Chippewa County Jail here after roughing up a deputy late Thursday.

The fugitives were identified as Alfred Hoglan, 17, and Richard Werner, 21, who escaped through a window. Two others attempted to escape, but were quickly recaptured, authorities said. All four were parolees awaiting sentencing.

Explosion, Fire Destroy American Plant In Brazil

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — Explosions and fire destroyed a U.S. pharmaceutical plant near Buenos Aires Thursday. At least four employees are missing and feared dead and 12 were seriously injured, firemen said.

Parke Davis and Co. of Detroit said the plant is situated in Escobar about 30 miles from Buenos Aires. A plant spokesman said a blast ripped through a boiler early Thursday before most of the 100 employees were at work. It touched off a fire which spread to chemical storage tanks nearby causing more explosions.

At the international headquarters in Detroit, Parke Davis & Co. officials said "Cause of the explosions has not been determined, but a full-scale investigation is now in progress. The plant has been closed for this investigation."

Firemen said the missing workers were believed trapped beneath the wreckage of the one-story plant. It took four hours to control the fire.

Consumer Price Index In Detroit Tops U.S. Mark

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit's Consumer Price Index jumped eight-tenths of a percent in May, four-tenths of a percent more than the national increase. It was the 32nd consecutive monthly increase in the index, which measures the average cost of goods and services purchased by the typical family.

The increase means that in May, it took $10.67 to buy in Detroit what cost $10 in May of last year.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics, which compiles the index, said that all major groups of goods and services increased in price last month, with transportation, housing and food leading the way.

Detroit's consumer price index for May was 134.9, compared with 133.8 in April. The national index for May was 134.6.

Seating 14 Jurors Troublesome In Ann Arbor Case

ANN ARBOR (AP) — There was a temporary halt today in attempts to complete a 14-member jury panel in the John Norman Collins murder trial to allow time for disposition in other cases.

The process of selecting a jury was to resume Monday in the case against Collins, 23, accused in the slaying of Karen Sue Beineman, 18, a coed at Eastern Michigan University, last year.

Defense counsel Joseph Louisell, after an incident Thursday in which two prospective jurors were dismissed, again indicated he felt it was impossible to seat an impartial jury from the area, where seven young women were slain in a two-year period.

Racial Unrest Seen Waning

WASHINGTON (AP) — The head of the federal agency charged with heading off unrest in the nation's ghettos says a replay of racial violence on the scale of Watts, Newark and Detroit is unlikely this summer.

But he adds that simmering unrest among racial minorities — "the everyday little tensions" — could easily boil over during confrontations with police into sporadic outbreaks.

"There is still, unfortunately, a great deal of hostility toward the police by minority groups," said Ben Holman, the director of the Justice Department's Community Relations Service.

"Under certain circumstances, almost any kind of confrontation could lead to some kind of violence," Holman, a Negro, said in an interview. But he added: "This is not to predict wholesale rioting."

The police, he added, should "avoid at all costs the things that would tend to escalate a situation."

Holman's assessment was followed Thursday by a Justice Department prediction, prompted by reports it is gearing up for trouble in big city ghettos, that "cool heads will prevail this summer and violence will be avoided."

'Barney' Gets Time Off, Skunk Helps

BAY CITY, Mich. (AP) — "Barney," the Bay County Sheriff Department's rookie tracking dog, has been given two days off to have his sensitive nose re-adjusted.

The 2-year-old, 85-pound German Shepherd was called on Thursday to help deputies track a fugitive in a field near Bay City.

Sniffing, the faithful dog led his trainer, Deputy Tom Gillman, directly to a skunk, who was "a little upset over the matter" and resisted the lawmen in the classic manner of upset skunks.

"It ruined the whole chase," observed one deputy.

Whimpering "Barney" was led back to a squad car on a 20-foot leash.

"It was just Barney's first year on the force and we think he'll be an all-right tracker after some more practice," said Sgt. Robert Berndt. "He needs some airing out right now though."

Political Bid

MOUNT PLEASANT (AP) — John Engler, who was graduated from Michigan State with a degree in agricultural economics this spring, is running for the legislature.

Engler of Mount Pleasant is seeking the Republican nomination for the 100th District House seat now held by Republican Russell Strange of Mount Pleasant.

Jobless Project

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Some 20 jobless or underemployed persons are scheduled to begin training Monday as clerk-typists in Grand Rapids, the Michigan Employment Security Commission has announced.

Hunger Exists; Relief Nearing End In Biafra

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP) — The Nigerian Red Cross is scheduled to end its relief operations in what used to be Biafra at the end of June, but about 3 million people are still living in hunger and economic despair in the former rebel state.

Experts warn that the Red Cross pullback could imperil the lives of some 2 1/2 million children who lived through or were born into the 2 1/2-year war of secession.

The director of the Nigerian Christian Council, Emmanuel Urhobo, said the figure of 3 million people in danger—estimated three weeks ago—probably has risen.

National and state government rehabilitation commissions are slated to take over the Red Cross relief work, but there is widespread doubt of their ability to run effective and coordinated operations.

In the East Central State, once the heartland of Biafra, the local rehabilitation commission reportedly has asked the Red Cross to remain beyond June 30.

The East Central State was hardest hit by the war. Although starvation no longer hangs over the Ibo people and others who joined the rebellion, many go hungry in villages and towns around Owerri and Orlu, 240 miles southeast of Lagos.

Thousands of children are severely undernourished, some lying in crowded hospitals with number tags around their necks, others wandering about, begging. Their milk rations will end when the Red Cross goes.

The Red Cross is already restricting some operations in order to provide food until June 30 for 30,000 of the worst cases who are in hospitals, as well as to give what they can to 200,000 outpatients.

Here's How State Lawmakers Voted On Vote Age Cut

WASHINGTON (AP)—Seven Democratic and six Republican members of the Michigan delegation to the U.S. House of Representatives voted with the majority Wednesday in approving the bill to lower the voting age to 18 and extend the Voting Rights Act. Six Republicans voted against the measure.

A vote for, as listed below, was a vote for immediate consideration of the bill while a vote against, as listed below, was a vote to recommit the bill to a House-Senate conference committee so the 18-year-old vote could have been deleted.

Three-Step Plan Inaugurated For Draft Lottery

WASHINGTON (AP) — Draft officials have devised a three-step lottery to ensure that the selection of numbers is random and thus avoid criticism that surrounded the first drawing last December.

The new system will employ both man and computer when the drawing is held July 1 to determine the order in which young men turning 19 will be inducted into the armed forces.

The plan, an official said, is not yet in final form, but officials hope to avoid charges the so-called fishbowl drawing held last year favored men whose birthdays fell early in the year.

The new plan calls for the National Bureau of Standards to use a computer to scramble the 366 days in the year—including Leap Year's Feb. 29—a total of 50 different ways.

The 50 366-part lists then would be put into separate envelopes and shuffled. A bystander presumably would pick an envelope. The computer-scrambled dates then would be put in capsules and placed in a glass jar and mixed.

The third step calls for a public drawing similar to the one held Dec. 1.

The order in which a man's birthday is drawn will determine the order in which he may be drafted.

Frankfort Firm Enters Low Bid On Lake Project

HUDINGTON (AP)—A Frankfort firm, Luedtke, Engineering Co., has entered an apparent low bid of $1,360,000 for work on Ludington's breakwaters.

The Army Corps of Engineers said the high bid among the five submitted was for $1,940,000. A contract is expected to be awarded by June 30 with work to be completed by Dec. 1, 1971.

The project involves strengthening the 2,300-foot north breakwater plus installing 4,700 feet of railings along both the north and south breakwaters.

Stock Market Sharply Higher

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock-market prices remained sharply higher at noon today, though the market leveled off from earlier gains.

Trading was moderate but slower than earlier volume during the big gains today.

At noon the Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was up 9.79 or 1.37 per cent at 722.48. It has now recovered from all of its recent downward price consolidation.

Advances led declines by more than 3 to 1.

Technicians said this extension of market gains suggested to many investors that the market was genuinely moving upward and on a real rebound from the Dow low of about 631 registered in May.

This rally began Thursday after the government issued a favorable report on inflation, analysts said. The report indicated the cost of living had increased at a lower rate in May than in any month since January.

Anticipation over the short interest figures due to be released by the New York Stock Exchange today also played a part in the rise, other analysts said.

They said investors thought the report would show an increase in the amount of short selling or the number of shares borrowed and sold and not yet replaced. This is a bullish sign, then added, because it represents an increase in buying potential.

The American Stock Exchange short interest report, issued Thursday, did show such an increase.

Steels, motors and aircraft were mixed, while utilities were off. All other categories were up.

At noon the Associated Press 60-stock index was up 2.3 at 242.8, with industrials up 4.9, rails up 0.4, and utilities up 0.8.

Continues present mandate that employees are free to join unions or not as they choose.

Southern Cal Wins College World Series

OMAHA (AP) — Southern California is king again of NCAA baseball, having wrapped up its sixth College World Series championship in what the Trojans' veteran coach, Rod Deaneux, proclaimed as "the most exciting of them all."

It took top-ranked USC 15 innings — matching a record length of a title contest in the tournament's 24-year history — to defeat No. 3 Florida State 2-1 Thursday night in what must go down as the Bullpen World Series.

The Trojans, who last won in 1968, used sophomore Greg Widman through the first seven innings before yanking him for a pinchhitter. Ace senior right-hander Jim Barr finished brilliantly to get his second series victory in a 14-2 season. He yielded three hits, struck out 5 and walked but one.

But this job was overshadowed by lanky left Mac Scarce. The junior was the fourth of five Seminole pitchers and for 7 1/3 innings to the 15th he gave but one hit, fanning nine and issuing three walks, one unintentionally.

The relief specialist absorbed the loss, closing the campaign with a 1-2 mark.

Scarce, whose Texas leaguer in a mild 15th inning threat was his first hit of the year, left the game with a blistered hand to the thunderous applause of 11,542 fans in Rosenblatt Stadium who swelled the total week-long attendance to a record high of 74,663.

Preliminary Hearing Opens On LSD Possession Charge

By MIKE UTT

Preliminary hearing of a case charging Rodney Cartwright, 17, of Escanaba with possession of LSD began in District Court Thursday before Judge Dean Shipman.

Shortly before 5 p. m. Thursday, Judge Shipman temporarily adjourned the hearing until 8:30 a. m. Monday and Cartwright was released on a $1,000 surety bond. He had been in the Delta County Jail since his arrest in lieu of $2,500 bond.

Cartwright was arrested on June 9 after a warrant for his arrest was issued by Delta County Prosecuting Attorney John Beauchamp following an investigation by city police of an incident that occurred on May 23.

Cyclist Slain In Shoot-Out

PONTIAC (AP) — Residents' complaints about a noisy motorcycle led to a shoot-out on an Oakland County road Thursday night which left one man dead and a sheriff's deputy wounded.

Deputy Dale Rose stopped the motorcycle in Commerce Township just before midnight and ordered its two riders to wait until he radioed to police headquarters.

He was told the motorcycle had been stolen in Detroit May 11.

A mother and two children standing on their front porch said they then saw one of the men pull out a gun. When the deputy resisted, they said the man fired two shots, one grazing Rose's hand and the other shattering the bone in his left arm.

Rose managed to fire four shots at Clarence F. Cadeau, 30, and he died in Pontiac General Hospital shortly after midnight, police said.

Four persons in a car that was accompanying the motorcycle were stopped. Police said two of them were held for questioning and the other two released.

They told police they all had met at a Detroit bar earlier in the evening and were lost on their way to a swimming party on Oakland County's Elizabeth Lake.

Rose was reported in satisfactory condition in Pontiac General Hospital. Married and in his 40s, Rose became a deputy two years ago after 22 years in the Army.

Police said Cadeau was released from Pontiac Michigan Prison last January to the custody of his father, who lives in Detroit.

Also called to the stand by Beauchamp were Norman Mausolf, a chemist at the Crime Laboratory in Lansing for the Public Health Department, who made tests on the pellets and determined that they were LSD; Mrs. Clareance Kaltenbach, who lives in the area where the children had been playing and who helped search the sand hill; Gary Besson of the Escanaba Police Department and Ronald Kaltenbach, also of the police department.

Green Objects

Before the hearing was temporarily adjourned Thursday, Gary Abrahamson, 2701 5th Ave. S., was called to the stand by Beauchamp.

Nino Green, defense attorney, objected to a question asking Abrahamson what Cartwright had said to him.

Green's objection had to do with the fact that no corpus delicti, the body of the case, had been established and that hearsay evidence could not be used to establish corpus delicti.

Judge Shipman sustained the objection after a recess to check into the matter, saying that the prosecution had not yet established that a crime had been committed and it must be proven before any hearsay evidence is introduced.

The preliminary hearing is to determine whether or not a crime has been committed and if their probable cause to send Cartwright to Circuit Court for trial on a felony charge.

Councilman Gets Into 'Hair' Of 2 Fellow Workers

DETROIT (AP) — Two fellow Detroit Common Councilmen have panned Mel Ravitz' costless participation Wednesday night in the finale of the controversial rock musical "Hair."

Councilman William Rogell said Thursday he would rather go fishing than see the musical, then added, "I don't give a damn if he danced on his head."

Councilman Anthony Wierzbicki also expressed his doubts about the propriety of the participation. Wierzbicki, who last week suggested a boycott of the play, said he did not think Ravitz' actions "were appropriate for a councilman."

Councilman Robert Tindal also attended Wednesday night's benefit performance for the Urban Alliance here. It was reported Tindal also danced in the finale, but he could not be reached to confirm it.

Ravitz, 45, a sociology professor at Wayne State University, however, said, "I was asked if I would join the cast on the stage and I did. I participated, and I enjoyed it thoroughly."

Son Being Held In Strangulation Of Mother, 40

LIVONIA (AP)—Police took a 15-year-old Livonia boy into custody after they said his mother was found strangled to death with a seven-foot bull whip.

Iris Lewis, 40, was found lying in the middle of the bedroom, strangled with the braided bull whip twisted around her neck, police said.

Mildred Belch of Livonia, the dead woman's aunt, had begun searching for her after receiving a phone call from the victim's husband, George Lewis, who told police he had been away on a business trip in Iowa.

Mrs. Belch said Lewis had tried unsuccessfully all night to reach his wife on the phone and was "concerned."

Livonia Police said they would make no comment on the detention of the boy until their investigation is completed.

Two Sault Area Escapees Sought

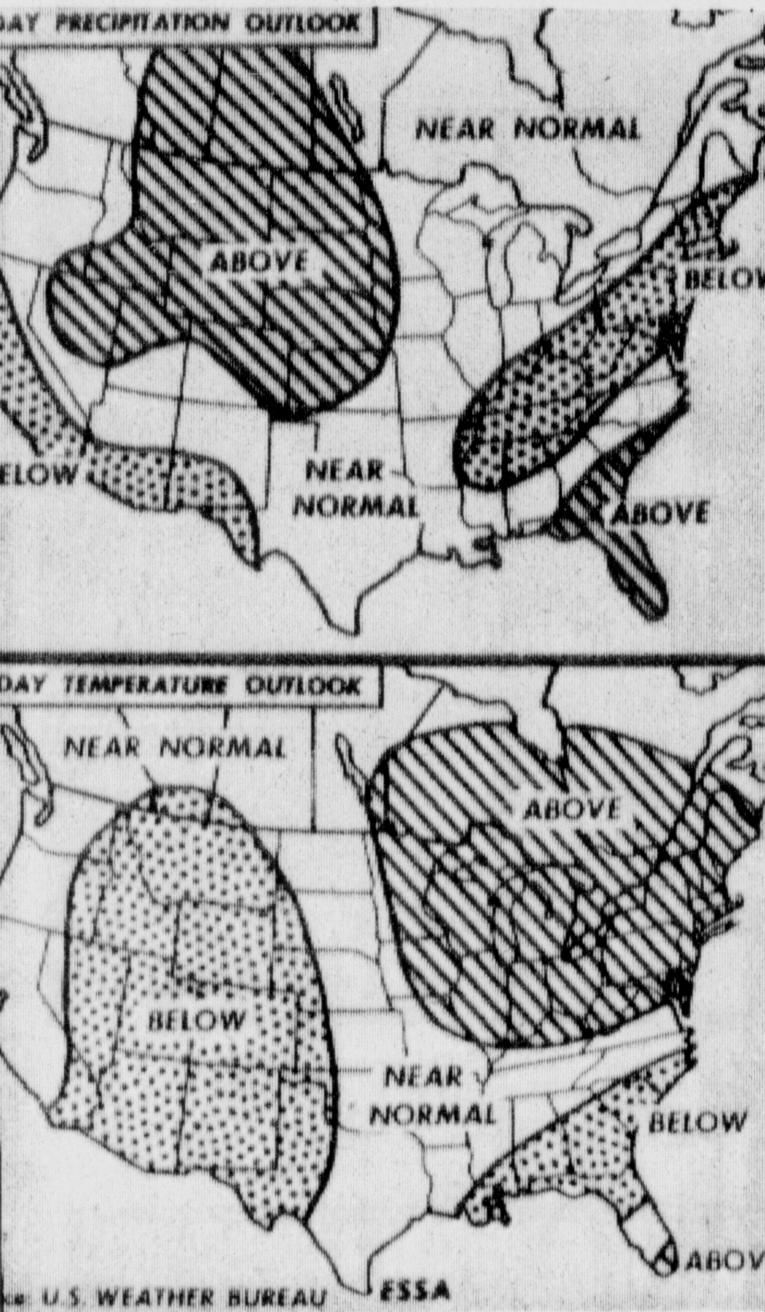

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP)—Sault Ste. Marie police are seeking two men today who escaped from the Chippewa County Jail here after roughing up a deputy late Thursday.

The fugitives were identified as Alfred Hoglan, 17, and Richard Werner, 21, who escaped through a window. Two others attempted to escape, but were quickly recaptured, authorities said. All four were parolees awaiting sentencing.

Explosion, Fire Destroy American Plant In Brazil

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — Explosions and fire destroyed a U.S. pharmaceutical plant near Buenos Aires Thursday. At least four employees are missing and feared dead and 12 were seriously injured, firemen said.

Parke Davis and Co. of Detroit said the plant is situated in Escobar about 30 miles from Buenos Aires. A plant spokesman said a blast ripped through a boiler early Thursday before most of the 100 employees were at work. It touched off a fire which spread to chemical storage tanks nearby causing more explosions.

At the international headquarters in Detroit, Parke, Davis & Co. officials said "Cause of the explosions has not been determined, but a full-scale investigation is now in progress. The plant has been closed for this investigation."

Firemen said the missing workers were believed trapped beneath the wreckage of the one-story plant. It took four hours to control the fire.

Consumer Price Index In Detroit Tops U.S. Mark

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit's Consumer Price Index jumped eight-tenths of a percent in May, four-tenths of a percent more than the national increase.

It was the 32nd consecutive monthly increase in the index, which measures the average cost of goods and services purchased by the typical family.

The increase means that in May, it took $10.67 to buy in Detroit what cost $10 in May of last year.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics, which compiles the index, said that all major groups of goods and services increased in price last month, with transportation, housing and food leading the way.

Detroit's consumer price index for May was 134.9, compared with 133.8 in April. The national index for May was 134.6.

Seating 14 Jurors Troublesome In Ann Arbor Case

ANN ARBOR (AP) — There was a temporary halt today in attempts to complete a 14-member jury panel in the John Norman Collins murder trial to allow time for disposition in other cases.

The process of selecting a jury was to resume Monday in the case against Collins, 23, accused in the slaying of Karen Sue Beineman, 18, a coed at Eastern Michigan University, last year.

Defense counsel Joseph Louisell, after an incident Thursday in which two prospective jurors were dismissed, again indicated he felt it was impossible to seat an impartial jury from the area, where seven young women were slain in a two-year period.

The incident developed when one woman being examined told Louisell that another woman who was a prospective juror had expressed her opinion that she felt Collins, from Center Line, was guilty of the strangulation slaying. The second woman was then called into the courtroom, where she said she did have an opinion, but she had not expressed the opinion to anyone else in the jury assembly room.

Racial Unrest Seen Waning

WASHINGTON (AP) — The head of the federal agency charged with heading off unrest in the nation's ghettos says a replay of racial violence on the scale of Watts, Newark and Detroit is unlikely this summer.

But he adds that simmering unrest among racial minorities — "the everyday little tensions" — could easily boil over during confrontations with police into sporadic outbreaks.

"There is still, unfortunately, a great deal of hostility toward the police by minority groups," said Ben Holman, the director of the Justice Department's Community Relations Service.

"Under certain circumstances, almost any kind of confrontation could lead to some kind of violence," Holman, a Negro, said in an interview. But he added: "This is not to predict wholesale rioting."

The police, he added, should "avoid at all costs the things that would tend to escalate a situation."

Holman's assessment was followed Thursday by a Justice Department prediction, prompted by reports it is gearing up for trouble in big city ghettos, that "cool heads will prevail this summer and violence will be avoided."

"This is due mainly to citizens' increasingly negative attitude toward violence and to police experience and training and handling of difficult situations."

The statement, unsigned by any Justice official, said.

'Barney' Gets Time Off, Skunk Helps

BAY CITY, Mich. (AP) — "Barney," the Bay County Sheriff Department's rookie tracking dog, has been given two days off to have his sensitive nose readjusted.

The 2-year-old, 85-pound German Shepherd was called on Thursday to help deputies track a fugitive in a field near Bay City.

Sniffing, the faithful dog led his trainer, Deputy Tom Gillman, directly to a skunk, who was "a little upset over the matter" and resisted the lawmen in the classic manner of upset skunks.

"It ruined the whole chase," observed one deputy.

Whimpering "Barney" was led back to a squad car on a 20-foot leash.

"It was just Barney's first year on the force and we think he'll be an all-right tracker after some more practice," said Sgt. Robert Berndt. "He needs some airing out right now though."

MOUNT PLEASANT (AP) — John Engler, who was graduated from Michigan State with a degree in agricultural economics this spring, is running for the legislature.

Hunger Exists; Relief Nearing End In Biafra

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP) — The Nigerian Red Cross is scheduled to end its relief operations in what used to be Biafra at the end of June, but about 3 million people are still living in hunger and economic despair in the former rebel state.

Experts warn that the Red Cross pullback could imperil the lives of some 2 1/2 million children who lived through or were born into the 2 1/2-year war of secession.

The director of the Nigerian Christian Council, Emmanuel Urhobo, said the figure of 3 million people in danger—estimated three weeks ago—probably has risen.

National and state government rehabilitation commissions are slated to take over the Red Cross relief work, but there is widespread doubt of their ability to run effective and coordinated operations.

In the East Central State, once the heartland of Biafra, the local rehabilitation commission reportedly has asked the Red Cross to remain beyond June 30.

The East Central State was hardest hit by the war.

Although starvation no longer hangs over the Ibo people and others who joined the rebellion, many go hungry in villages and towns around Owerri and Orlu, 240 miles southeast of Lagos.

Thousands of children are severely undernourished, some lying in crowded hospitals with number tags around their necks, others wandering about, begging. Their milk rations will end when the Red Cross goes.

The Red Cross is already restricting some operations in order to provide food until June 30 for 30,000 of the worst cases who are in hospitals, as well as to give what they can to 200,000 outpatients.

Pro Cage Merger Faces Bitter Battle

ATLANTA (AP) — The National and American Basketball Associations Thursday cleared their first—and probably easiest—hurdle in an attempt to merge, but faced a bitter battle from the NBA Players Association which has pending a lawsuit opposing a consolidated league.

Club owners in the two leagues voted Thursday to seek from Congress permission to merge. It was the only step they could take under a U.S. District Court injunction issued last May which legally barred a merger until disposition of the players' suit.

Proposal To Congress

The commissioners of the two leagues, Walter Kennedy of the NBA and Jack Dolph of the ABA, simultaneously announced the approval of a statement which will be submitted to Congress in the form of proposed legislation.

The NBA owners, meeting in Atlanta, voted 13-4 while the ABA owners, meeting in Denver, gave it an 11-0 vote. Five votes were needed in the NBA to kill the proposal. Kennedy quickly dispelled any thoughts of an immediate merger.

"I don't anticipate Congressional action so we can have a unification the end of the next season," he said.

"We have no sponsors for the proposed legislation at the moment," Kennedy added. "I really don't know when we'll file it, but certainly within the next few weeks."

Kennedy said the approved plan touched only basic principles and that conditions of a merger would certainly include other matters.

"The NBA had to go with this or nothing," Kennedy said. "Under the court's injunction we cannot discuss situations involving specific players."

NBA stars such as Zelmo Beatty and Rick Barry have jumped to the ABA and others have considered it.

ABA Criticized

The ABA also drew criticism from NBA owners for signing Spencer Heywood and Ralph Simpson before their classes graduated. However, Dolph announced he would reject the contract Simpson signed with Denver Tuesday.

The basic principles agreed to in the statement included a 28-team league to be known as the National Basketball Association, a single league schedule as early as practicable, a world championship between the two league winners, expansion by at least two new teams before the single league schedule goes into effect and a common draft of college players.

Kennedy would be commissioner of a consolidated league. The statement said the merger would become effective for the 1970-71 season, but as Kennedy pointed out, these matters actually were approved by merger committees from each league before the New York court issued its injunction in May. Therefore, he said, the dates were insignificant at this time.

Greg Johnson followed by uncorking a triple to centerfield scoring three runs and Jim Almonroeder doubled scoring Johnson in the fifth inning.

Loretto had three runs off Hermansville in the fourth inning to forge ahead and were able to stave off a Hermansville fifth inning rally which netted them two runs.

In defeating Hermansville, Bray struck out 7 and walked one batsmen.

Gladstone, in scoring its 10 runs in the fifth, knocked Goebels starting pitcher Ray Payment from the mound with Almonroeder taking over the mound, to save the game for Goebels.

Singles by Rick Ebbeson and Jerry Wiles, with a double by Bob Carlson and a triple by Dave Ingebristen highlighted the Gladstone uprising.

Goebels, in winning the contest, had 19 hits with Almonroeder leading the way with five hits followed by Greg Johnson and Dick Johnson with four hits apiece while Dan Myrlander had two hits. Way and Myrall had the only homers in the game.

Clarence Konas, who makes the league's schedule, has stated, "that if any team manager feels that they have not met any particular team as of now, to let him know when he's in the ball parks. All league entries must be in by Monday or no games, Konas also stated."

Simpson Case Appears Headed For Courtroom

DENVER (AP) — Signs multiplied Thursday that the case of basketball star Ralph Simpson might be headed for the courts unless the American Basketball Association reverses its stand on a contract signed by the Michigan State player with the Denver Rockets of the ABA.

Donald W. Ringsby, president and general manager of the Denver club, said, "We're not giving up on Ralph Simpson as a Denver Rocket by any means."

He said the Rocket management will honor its contract with the 20-year-old player no matter what develops.

Hardship Case

On Tuesday Ringsby announced that Simpson, with two years of eligibility left at Michigan State, had been signed as a hardship case to play in the 1970-71 season. His contract was reported to call for a total of about $1 million.

Less than 24 hours later, ABA Commissioner Jack Dolph said he was rejecting the Simpson contract. He added that league trustees voted at their Denver meeting to approve a $10,000 fine for the Rockets if the contract was submitted to Dolph's office.

The vote was reported to be 8-0 with Denver abstaining and two other clubs not voting. Immediately afterward Rings-

by declined comment, saying, "I could be fined if I said anything."

But Thursday the young club executive discussed the case freely.

"We feel we have not violated any bylaw of the ABA," he said, "and we will keep our obligation to the boy."

He declined to discuss the terms or length of the contract offered Simpson. Ringsby added, "We have not submitted the contract to the commissioner."

Informed of Ringsby's comments, Dolph said, "I would expect that Mr. Ringsby would not be in violation of the ABA by-laws." He added that the Rocket management always could ask for a hearing on Wednesday's decision.

Bylaws Discussed

The commissioner said league bylaws are explicit that a club may not sign a college player until his class graduates, although saying "we do have provisions in cases of severe hardship."

The assistant executive director of the NCAA, Arthur Bergstrom, said at Kansas City Wednesday that the act of signing a professional contract would cost Simpson his collegiate eligibility.

At Michigan State, a spokesman reported that Assistant Athletic Director Burt Smith said Simpson will not be able to play for Michigan State any more because the minute he signed the contract, he turned professional and lost his scholarship.

Simpson could not be reached for comment. An ABA official who asked not to be identified said, "How can an athlete be declared a pro if he has not taken any money? It's a pretty fine line."

Recreation League In Final Week Of Registration

Only one week remains for registration for the City Recreation League baseball program, the department said today.

Boys planning to play in the program were urged to register as soon as possible so teams can be organized in preparation for the season opening June 25.

Boys ages 7 to 9 or ages 10 to 13 can enroll in the Beginners or Junior Leagues between 9 a.m. and noon or from 1 to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday. Registration blanks are available at the Civic Center and at the home of Paul Vardigan, 1415 16th Ave. S.

Teams in the Beginners League are organized on a school basis with some schools fielding two teams because of the large number of boys involved. The Junior League is for boys 10 to 13 years old. The teams in this division are organized on a neighborhood basis and members of each team choose an appropriate name and play under that banner during the current season.

Jaeger Brothers Notch Victory In Girl's Softball

Jaeger Brothers erupted for 13 runs in the first two innings Wednesday night and went on to clobber Bay de Nocksers 25-13 in Girl's Softball action.

Sheila DeGrand snared the mound victory while Marge Sauve took the defeat. Home runs in the contest were by Gene Dahl with the bases loaded and by Kelly McKean. In a correction Debbie Bergerson had three homers for Lombardi's instead of Debbie Vilas in previous stated.

In Thursday night's action, Local 632 rallied for six runs in the last inning to edge Burger Chef 12-9. Sharon Benoit, with relief help from Barb Kleiman, took the mound decision while Gina VanEnkevort was the loser.

Manager Ralph Houk of the New York Yankees was born at Lawrence, Kan., in 1919.

Yanks Top Bosox; Edge Closer To League Leaders

By The Associated Press
Manager Ralph Houk of the New York Yankees needed some help and the call was answered by wandering Gary Waslewski.

The former Boston Red Sox right-hander got one of his infrequent starts and performed superbly, allowing his former teammates two harmless singles for six innings before tiring in the Yankees 3-2 victory over Boston Wednesday night.

"I had to come up with something," Houk said. "I thought Gary might be the guy."

Waslewski, a 28-year-old picked up from the Montreal Expos a month ago, was just that, providing the lift and the Yankees-winning their 12th game in 14 starts—edged to within 1 1/2 games of the American League East Division leading Baltimore Orioles. Last year at this time, the Yankees trailed Baltimore by 16 1/2 games. They were 31-35 compared to the current mark of 38-25.

In the only other AL game, Cleveland stopped Washington 6-3, while in the only two National League contests, Montreal ripped Atlanta 10-7 and Chicago blanked San Francisco 6-0.

The Yanks led 3-0, including a homer by Curt Blefary and a run-scoring single by Bobb Murcer before Waslewski was reached for a lead-off homer by Sox' shortstop Rico Petrocelli in the seventh.

"I was getting tired," Waslewski said. "I lost my concentration. I was just trying to throw a strike but got it too high for Petrocelli."

Houk replaced Waslewski, who was making only his second start for the Yankees, with ace bullpener Lindy McDaniel, who held off the Red Sox despite Petrocelli's second solo homer, a ninth-inning blast into the screen in left.

"He (Waslewski) hasn't pitched that much and I told Lindy in the sixth that if somebody got on in the next inning he would come in," Houk said.

"Waslewski gave us a real good game. He helped us a lot. I didn't want to have to start a left-hander here," the skipper added.

Gary, who pitched in the 1967 World Series for the Red Sox, moved to the St. Louis Cardinals and the Expos in 1969 before the Yankees bought him. He also hurled for seven minor league clubs in his 10-year pro career.

"I didn't get any particular thrill out of beating the Red Sox," he said after picking up his first victory of the season after going 0-2 with Montreal.

"I've been around too long but I've also learned a lot by the moving around," said the Medford, Mass., resident.

Tony Horton slammed a three-run homer in the eighth inning, snapping a 3-3 tie and giving the Indians their fifth consecutive victory.

Horton also ripped a pair of singles and was aided by solo homers by teammates Ray Fosse and Graig Nettles. Aurelio Rodriguez had a two-run shot for the Senators.

Ron Fairly slugged an eighth-inning grand slam homer to cap Montreal's six-run rally in overtaking the Braves who got three hits from Hank Aaron, including his 18th roundtripper of the season.

Aaron, who drove in four runs, added a single and double along with his two-run shot, the 372nd of his career while Gary Gossger drilled four hits for the Expos, including a two-run homer.

Ron Santo and Billy Williams belted homers and the Cubs breezed to their triumph behind the seven-hit hurling of right-hander Ferguson Jenkins.

Santo's was a two-run shot off loser Rich Robertson while Williams contributed his 18th of the season, a solo shot, as Jenkins, 37, rolled to his fifth consecutive triumph.

England's Jacklin Leading U.S. Open

CHASKA, Minn. (AP) — England's Tony Jacklin compares playing an unfamiliar, wind-blown golf course with traveling abroad—one must adjust.

But Jacklin must have thought the par-72, 7,151-yard Hazeltine National Golf Club was like home the way he adjusted and vaulted into the lead with a one-under-par 71 before today's second round of the U.S. Open Golf Championship.

"If I go to a new country," said Jacklin, "I adjust to its food and its habits. When I play a new course, like this one, I try to adjust to its characteristics."

The rest of the star-filled field didn't adapt to 40-mile-per-hour winds that slammed into Hazeltine and sent almost half of 105-man field past 80 after Thursday's first round.

Jacklin, with the forceful winds reminding him of English courses where he learned the game, adjusted so effectively that he was the only man below par. No one else reached par.

Two strokes back were Mason Rudolph, Julius Boros and Chi Chi Rodriguez. Bobby Mitchell of Danville, Va., Tony Evans of Fayetteville, N.C., and Richard Crawford of Eldorado, Ark., were tied at 74.

Billy Casper was in a large group at 75. Lee Trevino finished at 77, defending champion Orville Moody and Arnold Palmer trudged in with 79s. Gary Player took an 80 and Jack Nicklaus 81.

"We played a golf course that during practice rounds was extremely wet," said Palmer. "It was, too."

changed overnight to a dry, windy course. There's no excuse for shooting 79, not even on this course.

"The course was not to my liking in the first round," said Palmer, "but I see one man shot a 71 on the same golf course I played on."

Jacklin, the 1969 British Open champion from Eisham, England, went into the last three holes of his round four-under-par. But the 25-year-old Briton bogeyed 16 with three putts and landed in a creek for a double bogey on 17.

"It wouldn't bother me at all if the winds continued the next three days," Jacklin said. "I was brought up in this kind of weather. In fact, this wind isn't tremendously strong compared to some that we get back home."

"I hope it does stay like this. But the next day could be beautiful and everything could change."

Nicklaus and Palmer determinedly agreed things could change, and quickly.

"I'm not out of it," said Nicklaus. "Suppose I come back with a 65... that might make the cut by 10 strokes." The field will be cut to the low 60 and ties after the second round.

"Anything can happen the next three days," Palmer said. "Anything can happen if the weather stays the same."

However, the weather forecast called for diminishing winds overnight.

"I thought I was playing in the British Open," said Player. Jacklin probably felt that way, too.

Freehan Leads Early All-Star Balloting

NEW YORK — (AP) — Bill Freehan, the Detroit Tigers' All-Star catcher for six consecutive American League seasons in player balloting, was the people's choice to make it seven in a row, drawing the most votes in the first weekly release announced today by Commissioner Bowie Kuhn.

The national League's initial returns were announced Monday for the 41st mid-season classic between the two major leagues. The game will be played July 14 in Cincinnati's new Riverfront Stadium.

With the voting turned over to the fans for the first time since 1957, Freehan drew 255,258 of the 491,548 votes cast. Elrod Hendricks of Baltimore was a distant second at catcher with 36,555 votes.

Boog Powell, Baltimore's slugging first baseman was the second biggest vote-getter, gaining 255,515. Rod Carew, the Minnesota Twins' second baseman and current league batting leader with a .364 mark, was next with 236,938 votes.

The rest of the team in the early voting shows Harmon Killebrew of the Twins at third base, Rico Petrocelli of Boston at shortstop and Baltimore's Frank Robinson, Frank Howard of Washington and Carl Yastrzemski of the Red Sox in the outfield.

The fan balloting will end June 28 and the official starting All-Star team will be announced July 6-7. The voting is limited to eight starters with the rival managers, Earl Weaver of Baltimore and Gil Hodges of the New York Mets, naming the pitchers and remainder of the squad.

The NL's early leaders included Johnny Bench, Cincinnati catcher; Willie McCovey, San Francisco, first base; Glenn Beckert, Chicago, second base; Tony Perez, Cincinnati, third base; Don Kessinger, Chicago, shortstop; and outfielders Hank Aaron and Rico Carty of Atlanta and Willie Mays of San Francisco.

Freehan, Powell, Carew, Frank Robinson, Howard and Yastrzemski each held commanding leads at their respective positions with stiff battles only at shortstop and third base.

Petrocelli, last season's starter at short, who is only hitting .225 this season, holds a slim 131,894 to 124,289 lead over Luis Aparicio of the Chicago White Sox. Aparicio is hitting at a .314 clip.

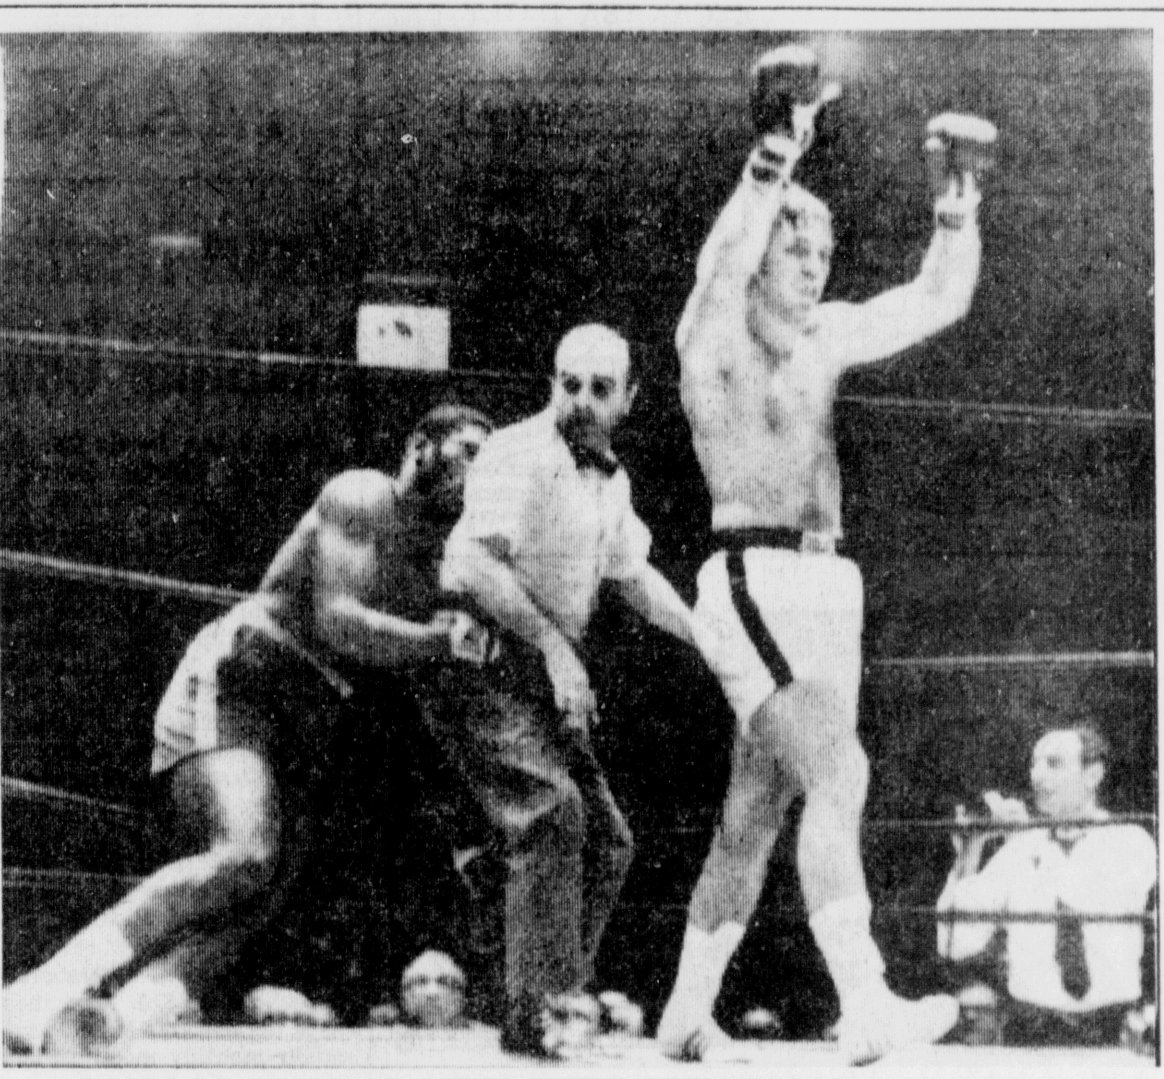

At third, Killebrew holds nearly a 10,000-vote lead over Brooks Robinson, Baltimore's golden glove. Killebrew has earned 185,595 votes to Robinson's 175,454.

Runnersup at each position include Norm Cash of Detroit, behind Powell at first; Tommy Harper of Milwaukee at second; and Tony Oliva of the Twins, Roy White of the New York Yankees and Reggie Smith of the Red Sox, in the outfield.

Lions Alone Atop Little League Loop

while, the League's lonesome end, John Chylek, vacated the cellar for the first time this season as Rotary won 6 to 2 over Exchange on a two hit-ter by Mike Smith.

Harvey Gendreau, Credit Union's eleven year old left-hander, latched on to his third win of the season last night, by stopping the once vaunted VFW attack on three hits to win 5 to 2. The win moved Credit Union into a second place tie with the Eagles, and set the stage for Monday night's showdown.

Cutler of Lions continues to lead in the league in pitching with a 4 and 0 record and 79 strikeouts for 36 innings of work. The Eagles one-two punch, Jon Sankovich and Eric Hanson, are out in front of the batting race with identical .480 averages. As batting averages continued to drop, Randy Kleiman of the Bankers is hitting at a .452 clip and remained the only other hitter above .400.

In other Little League activity players are asked to settle up their account for the soap sale at the Catherine Bonifas Civic Center by Monday.

Yanks Top Bosox; Edge Closer To League Leaders

By The Associated Press
Manager Ralph Houk of the New York Yankees needed some help and the call was answered by wandering Gary Waslewski.

The former Boston Red Sox right-hander got one of his infrequent starts and performed superbly, allowing his former teammates two harmless singles for six innings before tiring in the Yankees 3-2 victory over Boston Wednesday night.

"I had to come up with somebody," Houk said. "I thought Gary might be the guy."

Waslewski, a 28-year-old picked up from the Montreal Expos a month ago, was just that, providing the lift and the Yankees—winning their 12th game in 14 starts—edged to within 1½ games of the American League East Division leading Baltimore Orioles. Last year at this time, the Yankees trailed Baltimore by 16½ games. They were 31-35 compared to the current mark of 38-25.

In the only other AL game, Cleveland stopped Washington 6-3, while in the only two National League contests, Montreal ripped Atlanta 10-7 and Chicago blanked San Francisco 6-0.

The Yanks led 3-0, including a homer by Curt Blefary and a run-scoring single by Bobb Murcer before Waslewski was reached for a lead-off homer by Sox' shortstop Rico Petrocelli in the seventh.

"I was getting tired," Waslewski said. "I lost my concentration. I was just trying to throw a strike but got it too high for Petrocelli."

Houk replaced Waslewski, who was making only his second start for the Yankees, with ace bullpener Lindy McDaniel, who held off the Red Sox despite Petrocelli's second solo homer, a ninth-inning blast into the screen in left.

"He (Waslewski) hasn't pitched that much and I told Lindy in the sixth that if somebody got on in the next inning he would come in," Houk said.

"Waslewski gave us a real good game. He helped us alot. I didn't want to have to start a

England's Jacklin Leading U.S. Open

CHASKA, Minn. (AP) — England's Tony Jacklin compares playing an unfamiliar, wind-blashed golf course with traveling abroad—one must adjust.

But Jacklin must have thought the par-72, 7,151-yard Hazeltine National Golf Club was like home the way he adjusted and vaulted into the lead with a one-under-par 71 before today's second round of the U.S. Open Golf Championship.

"If I go to a new country," said Jacklin, "I adjust to its food and its habits. When I play a new course, like this one, I try to adjust to its characteristics."

The rest of the star-filled field didn't adapt to 40 mile-per-hour winds that slammed into Hazeltine and sent almost half of 105-man field past 80 after Thursday's first round.

Jacklin, with the forceful winds reminding him of English courses where he learned the game, adjusted so effectively that he was the only man below par. No one else reached par.

Two strokes back were Mason Rudolph, Julius Boros and Chi Chi Rodriguez. Bobby Mitchell of Danville, Va., Tony Evans of Fayetteville N.C., and Richard Crawford of Eldorado, Ark., were tied at 74.

Billy Casper was in a large group at 75. Lee Trevino finished at 77, defending champion Orville Moody and Arnold Palmer trudged in with 79s. Gary Player took an 80 and Jack Nicklaus 81.

"We played a golf course that during practice rounds was extremely wet," said Palmer. "It changed overnight to a dry, windy course. There's no excuse for shooting 79, not even on this course."

"The course was not to my liking in the first round," said Palmer, "but I see one man shot a 71 on the same golf course I played on."

Jacklin, the 1969 British Open champion from Elsham, England, went into the last three holes of his round four-under par. But the 25-year-old Briton bogeyed 16 with three putts and landed in a creek for a double bogey on 17.

"It wouldn't bother me at all if the winds continued the next three days," Jacklin said. "I was brought up in this kind of weather. In fact, this wind isn't tremendously strong compared to some that we get back home. I hope it does stay like this. But the next day could be beautiful and everything could change."

Nicklaus and Palmer determinedly agreed things could change, and quickly.

"I'm not out of it," said Nicklaus. "Suppose I come back with a 68 . . . that might make the cut by 10 strokes." The field will be cut to the low 60 and ties after the second round.

"Anything can happen the next three days," Palmer said. "Anything can happen if the weather stays the same."

However, the weather forecast called for diminishing winds overnight.

"I thought I was playing in the British Open," said Player. Jacklin probably felt that way, too.

Lark's Derailed Amvets In Big Way 25 To 18

Last Night's Results

Lark's 25, AMVETS 18

Lark's took advantage of a rainy, wet first-half of the first inning by sliding a slippery ball past a short-handed AMVETS infield for 15 runs in its 25 to 18 victory Thursday night in Slow Pitch action.

With 3 regulars missing, the AMVETS were in trouble throughout most of the game. Triples by Pat Kinn, Jim Schwalbach and Steve Nault and a homer by Don Koish kept the AMVETS pecking away at an unmountable lead. It was enough to force Larks to pull out starting pitcher, Bob Moran and substitute with Lloyd Brown.

As the rain subsided, the AMVETS infield tightened up like rawhide and played errorless ball from then on.

Home runs by Jim Brunelle, Lloyd Brown, Lee Hermansen, Gary Boudreau and Mike Conley sparked Lark's to its third victory of the season. Conley also paced Lark's with five hits while Bob Moran, Hermansen and Brunelle had four hits apiece.

Tigers 'Seconds' Finish Second In Exhibition

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Tigers used their second stringers in their exhibition baseball game Thursday night.

So did the Philadelphia Phillies, but with one big difference—their scrubbies had stinging bats as they romped to a 10-3 victory.

It's a good thing the game didn't count in the standings or on pitchers' earned-run averages because the Tigers would surely be demoralized.

But it'll be all for real tonight when Detroit was scheduled to open a four-game series in Cleveland with Mickey Lolich, 6-6, expected to pitch for the Tigers.

The exhibition was a benefit game for sandlot baseball programs in Michigan, Ohio and Ontario. A crowd of 20,400 showed up and poured $103,000 into the cause.

Both teams took advantage of the game to use their second teams, resting the starters and giving the benchwarmers needed work.

Dick McAuliffe, Al Kaline, and Willie Horton all started for Detroit but were replaced in two innings or less by Dalton Jones, Ike Brown and Gates Brown.

Because of the insignificance of the inter-league game, somehow the players seemed unenthusiastic and almost nonchalant.

"Yes, I think that's so," said third baseman Don Wert, who hasn't been playing much lately but went all the way Thursday.

"But for the guys who haven't played it's more serious," he laughed.

Detroit scored its first two runs off starter Grand Jackson in the second on a home run by second-string catcher Jim Price after a single by Mickey Stanley. Ken Sotkiewicz blasted a solo homer in the sixth for the Tigers.

The Phillies nicked Daryl Patterson for a pair of runs in the fourth on a single, an error by Sotkiewicz, a sacrifice fly by Hutto, and an RBI single by Mike Ryan.

We mourn the loss of one we loved,
We did our best to save;
Beloved in life, regretted still,
Remembered in his grave.
No more upon this earth
We'll see his gentle, loving face
There is not one in the wide world
Can ever take his place.

New Tree Harvest Concept Developed

HOUGHTON—A technological breakthrough to achieve maximum tree use in hardwood dimension production has been developed after five years of research by Prof. James F. Hamilton of Michigan Technological University's Institute of Wood Research.

The maximum-use concept achieves 30 per cent more usable material from the same tree, compared with the system currently used by manufacturers.

"In addition to increasing the value of trees, the new concept also would help conserve our valuable timber resources because 80 trees will produce the equivalent of 100 trees," Hamilton explained.

Hardwood trees usually are converted into logs ranging from 8 to 16 feet long, which then are sawn into full-length graded lumber. This lumber, with the exception of flooring grades, is shipped out of the area. Manufacturers then re-manufacture this lumber into dimensioned components primarily for furniture. The ultimate use of the bulk of hardwood timber is in short lengths, averaging less than 48 inches.

Use More of Tree
The new concept involves using more of each tree stem and then cutting it into shorter lengths related to the length of the actual finished product. Those sections, called bolts, are converted into the board lengths required in a fast-sawing system. After kiln drying, re-manufacturing is done to produce a secondary product to the purchaser's specifications. Thus, the maximum tree-use concept employs more area people and the value added by re-manufacturing helps the economy of the area.

Hamilton said another benefit of the new system is that low quality hardwood timber produces a much better yield of high grade industrial parts than the current system, which has a problem of obtaining high grade lumber from low grade logs. A key to implementing the concept was development of a reliable method of grading and cutting bolts for specific uses.

Sawing At Center
The research proposal was approved by the Michigan Legislative Committee on Economic Development in June, 1965. The project was funded by the Michigan Office of Economic Expansion and has been supplemented by support from the University's Institute of Wood Research. The actual sawing involved in the study was done at Michigan Tech's Ford Forestry Center sawmill at Alberta.

Rec. Department Arts And Crafts Program Slated

The Escanaba Recreation Department will open its Arts and Crafts programs at Webster and Royce Parks Monday, June 22.

They will be assisted by members of the Neighborhood Youth Corps made available by Don Brunelle of the Community Action Agency.

Boys and girls 5 to 7 years of age are scheduled at 9:30 in the morning at both parks and youngsters 8 to 10 are asked to report at 10:30 from Monday through Friday.

Policeman Given 'Unwanted' Ride

DETROIT (AP)—A Detroit policeman was hospitalized in what was described as temporary serious condition Thursday after being dragged several hundred yards by a car on the Lodge Freeway. Police said Patrolman James Jackson and another officer had stopped the car and Jackson went to the driver's window. Officers said when Jackson reached inside, the car pulled away, dragging Jackson with it. The car was described as a 1969 Cadillac with four "youthful occupants."

Proclamation

LANSING (AP)—October will be Restaurant month in Michigan, by proclamation of Gov. William Milliken.

Utility Rate Hike Measure Loses 'Round'

LANSING (AP)—A bill that would allow utilities to hike gas, electric and telephone rates without approval of the State Public Service Commission has been defeated by the Michigan Senate.

The measure, turned down 13-23 Thursday, was slated for a second passage attempt next week.

Sponsored by Sen. Roger Craig, D-Dearborn, the proposal would authorize "automatic" rate increases by utilities if the Public Service Commission failed to act on the increase request within 10 months after it was filed.

Generally, utilities now are allowed to boost rates only after a decision by the commission on the merits of the request—and the amount of increase it would allow.

Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley opposed the bill, pointing to rate increases that had been requested in the past two years by major utilities. Kelley noted those requests were dropped substantially when the commission made decisions, and those decisions went through processes of appeals.

Kelley said that if the utilities had been allowed to collect the rates they had requested—instead of waiting for commission approval and action of the courts—their consumers would have paid out more than $150 million that they need not have.

Craig's bill provided that if the commission, or the courts, had decided the utility increase request were not justified, the firms would have to return the excess funds they had collected from consumers.

Kelley rebutted that, however, saying many persons, especially those in the lower income brackets, would not be thinking about refunds they might receive in the future. "Their primary concern is the rates they must be paid today and where the money is coming from to pay today's rates," he said.

"You don't take people's money when you're going to have to give it back with interest," Craig argued.

He suggested also that a second provision of the bill would save time and money for the commission. That section required utilities to present statistics backing their increase requests when those requests were filed.

Currently, no such information is required, Craig said.

Still another provision, which Kelley did not dispute, would have provided for appeals on rate decisions to be made directly to the State Appeals Court.

Diocese To Aid Disaster Victims Of Peru, Texas

MARQUETTE — Bishop Charles A. Salatka Wednesday announced the cooperation of the Diocese of Marquette with the United States Catholic Conference in aid victims of two recent disasters.

The Conference had requested help from all dioceses to allow its Disaster Relief Department to render effective help to the victims of the tragic earthquake in Peru.

The diocese of Marquette will send $500 from the Upper Peninsula Catholic Services Appeal Contingency Fund to aid in the vast task of relocation, rebuilding, disease prevention and food provision.

Another $100 from the same fund will be sent to the United States Catholic Conference to aid the relocation of tornado victims in Lubbock, Tex.

Other dioceses across the country will be responding in proportion to their ability to help; some will be taking up special collections, others, like the diocese of Marquette, will use funds already set aside for such purposes.

"The generosity of the people of our diocese in supporting the annual Upper Peninsula Catholic Services Appeal gives our diocese the ability to respond quickly when called upon to help, whether locally, nationally or on the international scene," stated Fr. Raymond F. Moncher, communications officer for the Diocese of Marquette and director of publicity for the Upper Peninsula Catholic Services Appeal.

The contributions are in addition to the cash and clothing given by the people of the U.P. in two annual Catholic Relief Services collections.

License Fees May Be Lower For Motorists

LANSING (AP)—License plates could cost Michigan's insured motorists $1 a year less if the state senate goes along with a bill passed by the House.

On a sweeping 101-1 roll call Thursday, the House voted to waive collection of the $1 fee for the state vehicle accident claims fund whenever an insurance bureau audit shows the funds' surplus to be 50 per cent more than claims and expenses.

Claims against the $35 million fund totaled some $16 million last year, legislators said.

The House postponed action on a controversial Senate bill that would require commercial drivers to hold both regular driving licenses and special chauffeurs' licenses. Penalty points for traffic violations would be assessed against either license, allowing them double the maximum of 12 points that now may be collected.

The bill was introduced in the Senate by Appropriations Chairman Charles O. Zollar, R-Benton Harbor, an passed easily, 26-9. Subsequent intense lobbying in the house drew opposition from Republicans who said the bill was a favor for the Teamsters Union.

Rep. Raymond Smit, R-Ann Arbor, accused majority Democrats on the House Appropriations Committee of threatening to cut budget funds for the secretary of state, highway and police departments if they testified against the bill.

"They were told to keep their mouths shut," said Smit. He

DDT Tolerance Levels Of Fish Asked In State

LANSING (AP)—The State Agriculture Commission has proposed DDT tolerance levels in fish to be sold in Michigan.

Public hearings will be held before the levels, higher than those allowed by the federal government, will become official. The hearings will be held during the next month. Dates and locations have not yet been set.

The Agriculture Commission is recommending a tolerance level be allowed of up to 15 parts per million (PPM) salmonids—Coho, Chinook and lake trout—and 10 PPM for other fish.

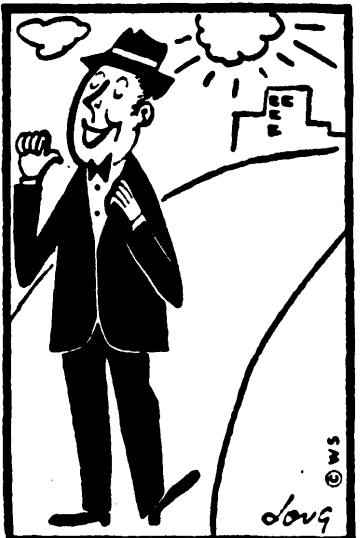

The U.S. Department of Agriculture, meanwhile, has established an interim tolerance level of not more than five PPM of DDT in any fish.

The federal agency has been seizing salmon, chubs and other fish with more than five PPM intended for interstate commerce.

The agriculture Commission said it will use State Health Department figures as a temporary guideline for DDT tolerances until its own are finalized. These are 10 PPM for salmon and lake trout and 15 PPM for other fish.

contended the U. S. Transportation Department has threatened to withhold highway funds if the special driving privilege is adopted.

Rep. Robert E. Waldron, Republican minority leader, said he thought the bill ought to be back to committee "to cool off. This bill does nothing for the people of Michigan and its highway safety program."

Officers said when Jackson reached inside, the car pulled away, dragging Jackson with it. The car was described as a 1969 Cadillac with four "youthful occupants."

Utility Rate Hike Measure Loses 'Round'

LANSING (AP)—A bill that would allow utilities to hike gas, electric and telephone rates without approval of the State Public Service Commission has been defeated by the Michigan Senate.

The measure, turned down 13-23 Thursday, was slated for a second passage attempt next week.

Sponsored by Sen. Roger Craig, D-Deerborn, the proposal would authorize "automatic" rate increases by utilities if the Public Service Commission failed to act on the increase request within 10 months after it was filed.

Generally, utilities now are allowed to boost rates only after a decision by the commission on the merits of the request—and the amount of increase it would allow.

Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley opposed the bill, pointing to rate increases that had been requested in the past two years by major utilities. Kelley noted those requests were dropped substantially when the commission made decisions, and those decisions went through processes of appeals.

Kelley said that if the utilities had been allowed to collect the rates they had requested—instead of waiting for commission approval and action of the courts—their consumers would have paid out more than $150 million that they need not have.

Craig's bill provided that if the commission, or the courts, had decided the utility increase request were not justified, the firms would have to return the excess funds they had collected from consumers.

Kelley rebutted that, however, saying many persons, especially those in the lower income brackets, would not be thinking about refunds they might receive in the future. "Their primary concern is the rates they must be paid today and where the money is coming from to pay today's rates," he said.

"You don't take people's money when you're going to have to give it back with interest," Craig argued.

He suggested also that a second provision of the bill would save time and money for the commission. That section required utilities to present statistics backing their increase requests when those requests were filed.

Currently, no such information is required, Craig said.

Still another provision, which Kelley did not dispute, would have provided for appeals on rate decisions to be made directly to the State Appeals Court.

Diocese To Aid Disaster Victims Of Peru, Texas

MARQUETTE — Bishop Charles A. Salata Wednesday announced the cooperation of the Diocese of Marquette with the United States Catholic Conference in aid victims of two recent disasters.

The Conference had requested help from all dioceses to allow its Disaster Relief Department to render effective help to the victims of the tragic earthquake in Peru.

The diocese of Marquette will send $500 from the Upper Peninsula Catholic Services Appeal Contingency Fund to aid in the vast task of relocation, rebuilding, disease prevention and food provision.

Another $100 from the same fund will be sent to the United States Catholic Conference to aid the relocation of tornado victims in Lubbock, Tex.

Other dioceses across the country will be responding in proportion to their ability to help; some will be taking up special collections, others, like the diocese of Marquette, will use funds already set aside for such purposes.

"The generosity of the people of our diocese in supporting the annual Upper Peninsula Catholic Services Appeal gives our diocese the ability to respond quickly when called upon to help, whether locally, nationally or on the international scene," stated Fr. Raymond F. Moncher, communications officer for the Diocese of Marquette and director of publicity for the Upper Peninsula Catholic Services Appeal.

The contributions are in addition to the cash and clothing given by the people of the U.P. in two annual Catholic Relief Services collections.

License Fees May Be Lower For Motorists

LANSING (AP)—License plates could cost Michigan's insured motorists $1 a year less if the state senate goes along with a bill passed by the House.

On a sweeping 101-1 roll call Thursday, the House voted to waive collection of the $1 fee for the state vehicle accident claims fund whenever an insurance bureau audit shows the funds' surplus to be 50 per cent more than claims and expenses. Claims against the $35 million fund totaled some $16 million last year, legislators said.

The House postponed action on a controversial Senate bill that would require commercial drivers to hold both regular driving licenses and special chauffeurs' licenses. Penalty points for traffic violations would be assessed against either license allowing them double the maximum of 12 points that now may be collected.

The bill was introduced in the Senate by Appropriations Chairman Charles O. Zollar, R-Benton Harbor, an passed easily, 26-9. Subsequent intense lobbying in the house drew opposition from Republicans who said the bill was a favor for the Teamsters Union.

Rep. Raymond Smit, R-Ann Arbor, accused majority Democrats on the House Appropriations Committee of threatening to cut budget funds for the secretary of state, highway and police departments if they testified against the bill.

"They were told to keep their mouths shut," said Smith. He

DDT Tolerance Levels Of Fish Asked In State

LANSING (AP)—The State Agriculture Commission has proposed DDT tolerance levels in fish to be sold in Michigan.

Public hearings will be held before the levels, higher than those allowed by the federal government, will become official. The hearings will be held during the next month. Dates and locations have not yet been set.

The Agriculture Commission is recommending a tolerance level be allowed of up to 15 parts per million (PPM) salmonids—Coho, Chinook and lake trout—and 10 PPM for other fish.

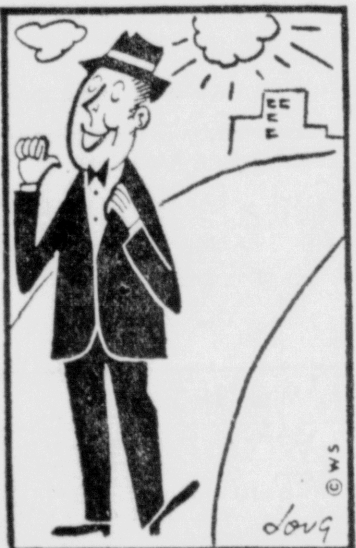

The U.S. Department of Agriculture, meanwhile, has established an interim tolerance level of not more than five PPM of DDT in any fish.

The federal agency has been seizing salmon, chubs and other fish with more than five PPM intended for interstate commerce.

The agriculture Commission said it will use State Health Department figures as a temporary guideline for DDT tolerances until its own are finalized. These are 10 PPM for salmon and lake trout and 15 PPM for other fish.

contended the U. S. Transportation Department has threatened to withhold highway funds if the special driving privilege is adopted.

Rep. Robert E. Waldron, Republican minority leader, said he thought the bill ought to be back to committee "to cool off. This bill does nothing for the people of Michigan and its highway safety program."
